

2 More U.S. Planes Lost in Air War Over N. Viet Nam

American Raids Curtailed by Rainstorms Over Red Territory

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military headquarters said today two more American planes were shot down over North Viet Nam during raids on the main supply and infiltration routes to the south.

Rainstorms again curtailed U.S. air blows against the north and an elusive enemy in the south reduced allied ground action once more to small skirmishes.

High-altitude B52 bombers, flying above the foul weather, dropped tons of explosives at noon today on a Viet Cong base camp and training area close to the Cambodian border. The bombers hit at much-battered War Zone C 70 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province.

Toll Hits 357
The losses of the latest two planes raised to 357 the number of American warplanes to go down in action over North Viet Nam.

One plane was a Navy A1 Skyraider from the aircraft carrier Intrepid which was shot down 40 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Friday. The other was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief which went down 40 miles north of the same coastal city.

The pilots of both planes were rescued.

In air raids over North Viet Nam Friday, American pilots flew 96 missions, all concentrated in the southern panhandle as thunderstorms prevented strikes in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas and the Red River Valley.

Air Force planes attacked

main supply Route 101 and a U.S. spokesman said they cut the road in 11 places within a 20-mile section.

Other Air Action
In other air action Friday three flights of B52 jet bombers pounded suspected enemy trenches, bunkers and foxholes 35 miles southeast of Saigon in support of the 1st Brigade of the U.S. 173rd Airborne.

On the ground, South Vietnamese reported killing 57 of the enemy, when more than 1,000 government troops fought a quick, savage battle in a mangrove swamp in the Mekong Delta about 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

The troops reported seizing a large supply of ammunition and weapons and destroying enemy communications materiel, other equipment and a small medical station. Government casualties were unreported.

South Viet Nam's chief of state said Friday that a large-scale allied landing in North Viet Nam may well be necessary to eliminate the Communist threat to his country and halt infiltration from the north.

2,000 Guardsmen Ordered to Cicero

Civil Rights Protesters, U. S.
Nazis Plan Gatherings Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A peace-keeping force of 2,000 National Guardsmen has been promised to officials at Cicero, Ill., the one-time gangland capital where civil rights protesters and American Nazis plan to gather Sunday.

Acting Friday on requests from local officials, Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner activated the guardsmen, to be joined by local, county and state officers in protecting an anticipated 400 to 600 open housing marchers.

Cicero was the scene 15 years ago of a three-day series of riots after a Negro family tried to move into an apartment.

Town Atty. Christy Berkos said he issued a march permit to avoid violence, on the theory the demonstrators would proceed with or without a permit.

Looking for Trouble
He pleaded with Cicero residents to "stay off the streets and prove to the entire world that we are not violent people and are not looking for trouble."

A Midwest division spokesman of the American Nazi party said members would be in Cicero Sunday. He did not say how many or for what.

Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane, commander of the Guard, said his men would be instructed as previously: "If fired upon, they are to return the fire and shoot to kill."

Helicopters and other aircraft are to fly over the community of 70,000, scanning rooftops for potential troublemakers.

In Dayton, Ohio, armed guardsmen and police patrolled the predominantly Negro district where a Negro man was killed by shotgun fire from a passing car the previous day, touching off rioting which led to 25 injuries and 130 arrests.

Few Fires
Officers dispatched to find a carload of white youths who reportedly fired at a Negro Friday night, were unable to find either the Negro or the boys.

A few fires, quickly extinguished, were termed arson by police. Some bystanders taunted passing police and guardsmen.

No Newspaper On Labor Day

To permit employees to spend the Labor Day weekend with their families, The Post-Crescent will not be published on Monday.

Otherwise comparative quiet reigned and the city went ahead with plans for a Labor Day visit by President Johnson.

Elsewhere on the racial scene:

—At Montgomery, Ala., Gov. George C. Wallace marked the final day of a special legislative session by signing a bill ordering state school systems to defy federal desegregation guidelines. Joe L. Reed, executive secretary of an association of 10,000 Alabama Negro teachers, called the bill "one of the biggest acts of political trickery in the 20th century."

—A Brundidge, Ala., drive-in restaurant was permanently enjoined by a U.S. district judge from refusing to serve any person of any race.

When Gonzales County authorities in Texas arrested Bill and Benny McCrary, 19, for burglary, the arrest was a big one. The twins each weigh 450 pounds. Officers used a paddy wagon to transport them to jail because they couldn't get into a patrol car. Held in lieu of $2,500 bonds, the pair slept on the floor of their cell because they couldn't fit the jail cots. (AP Wirephoto)

Salinger Book Shows Temper Of President

Johnson Would
'Blow Sky High'
Over News Leaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — New indications that President Johnson can be terrible tempered when crossed are given in a just-published book by Pierre Salinger.

In a volume entitled "With Kennedy," Salinger relates his work as press secretary for the late president and — for four months — in the same post with Johnson.

For some weeks after Johnson became president he had excellent relations with the press, Salinger writes, but—

"No president's honeymoon with the press has lasted very long and LBJ's came to an end, too. Misunderstandings and resentments broke out on both sides.

President Incensed
"The President, accustomed to highly sympathetic treatment by the press in the weeks after the assassination, was incensed by the increasing frequency of tough questions at his press conferences and hostile editorials and columns.

"If the press had voluntarily become a partner of government in restoring national unity after Dallas, it was now clearly returning to its normal role.

"In common with JFK, President Johnson would blow sky high over news leaks from the White House, particularly those involving presidential appointments. But he went further than President Kennedy in expressing his anger. A few of these hapless choices didn't get their appointments because of the premature announcements.

More Secretive
"Gradually, the President became more secretive with the correspondents. And, because I was his direct contact with them, I began to get less information.

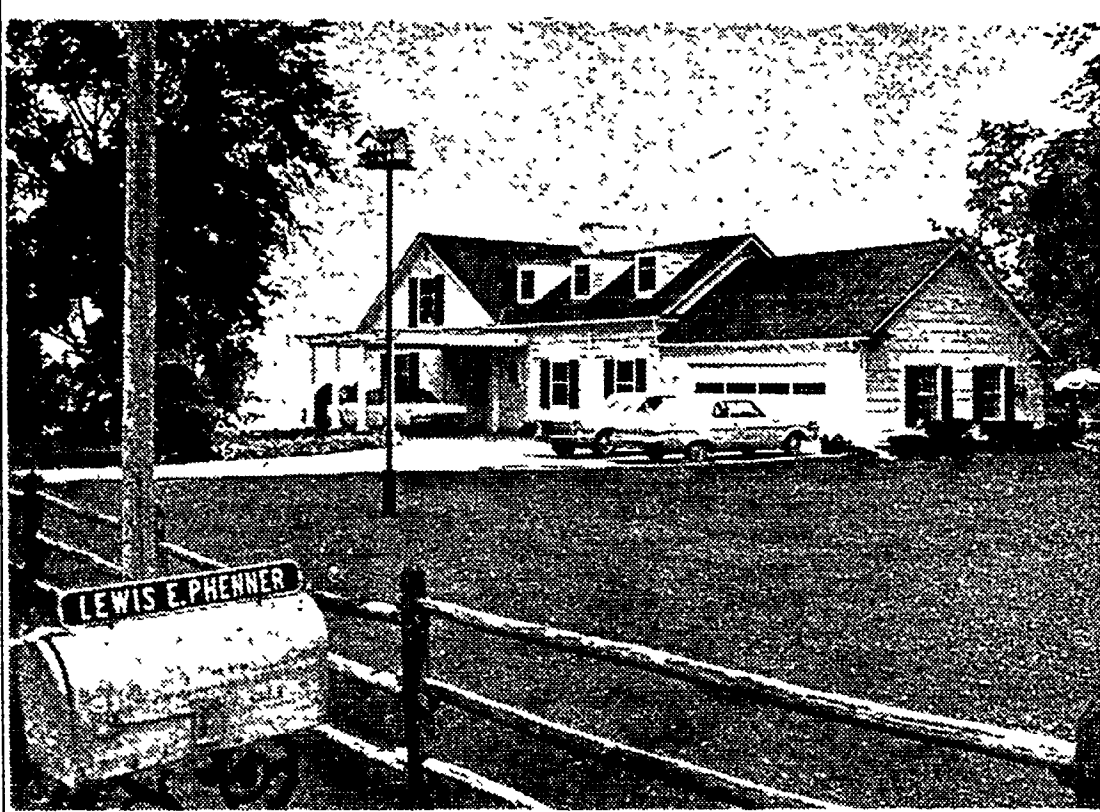

"I had always been able to enter his office at will, if he had no visitors, but one day his secretary said I would have to arrange an appointment in the future.

"This didn't offend me. I had always had to clear with (White House aide) Ken O'Donnell before calling on JFK and, until then, I had been the only member of LBJ's staff who had the run of his office."

A sidelight on the less-than-perfect rapport between Johnson and the now Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., is also provided in the book. Salinger said he used to swim in the White House pool with President Johnson and converse. Johnson told him how much he admired John F. Kennedy.

"His admiration, however," the book relates, "did not extend to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy who, he was convinced, attempted to sabotage his nomination for the vice-presidency in 1960."

Car Crashes Claim Lives of 2 Fox Cities Area Residents

A Neenah youth became the Valley's first highway death victim of the Labor Day weekend early this morning, dying after the van truck he was riding in struck a tree and burst into flames on a Neenah residential street.

In addition, an Appleton woman died about noon Friday at a Clintonville hospital, two hours after a car in which she was a passenger and a car driven by a Milwaukee man collided just south of Clintonville.

Battered Ship Heads for U. S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stricken Italian tanker Alberto Bennati, battered by winds and waves of Hurricane Faith, was proceeding today under her own power to Hampton Roads, Va., the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard said the tanker, her engine room pumped dry and power restored, was making about five knots per hour and was being escorted by the cutters Mendota and Chilula.

The vessel should reach port in about 100 hours, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Dead are:
John Ottman, 18, son of Mrs. Albin Jury, 412 Fifth St., Neenah.

Mrs. Alice Bruce, 76, 211 S. Oak St., Appleton.

Nine Injured
Nine persons were injured in the Neenah crash, which occurred, police said, after the van, going south on Oak Street, slid through a stop sign at Washington Avenue and went out of control.

The vehicle slid sideways, brushing two trees, rolled over and struck a third tree. The vehicle burst into a "mass of flames and sparks," police said.

The Clintonville fatality was Waupaca County's eighth of the year. According to police, Mrs. Bruce was a passenger in a southbound car driven by Mrs. Edna M. Hoffman, 75, Antigo, who attempted to make a left turn off U. S. 45-State 22 onto County Trunk I. A station wagon driven by John G. Imse, 37, Milwaukee, was traveling north and struck the Hoffman vehicle.

Others Injured
Injured in the station wagon were Scott Smith, 12, with a bump on the knee and Mike Imse, 11, a bump on the back. Mrs. Hoffman suffered a broken right collar bone, broken ribs, severe cuts of the scalp and multiple bruises.

The injured were taken to Clintonville Community Hospital by Eberhardt and Hoh Ambulance, Clintonville.

The impact of the Neenah crash, police said, sent passengers flying from the vehicle and onto terraces on both sides of Oak Street. Winnebago County Coroner Art C. Miller, said Ottman died at 1:15 a.m. today in Theda Clark Hospital of internal injuries.

Reported in critical condition at the hospital was Jon Freund, 17, 1031 Campbell St., Neenah.

Speaks at Virginia Dam

Johnson Says World Will Have to Choose Between War and Water

SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — President Johnson, ranging far afield from the November elections, told West Virginians today the world soon will face a choice between war or ample stocks of pure water.

The occasion was the dedication here of a $46-million flood control dam — the largest earth-and-rock structure of its kind east of the Mississippi.

In a speech prepared for the occasion, Johnson said the world's need for pure water is growing so fast "that we are in a race with disaster."

If people fail to meet the challenge, he said, "I can assure you that not even America's unprecedented military might will be able to preserve the peace for long."

Today's Schedule

It was another campaign season weekend for Johnson. He scheduled stops today in Pennsylvania and West Virginia and, on Monday, will be moving through Michigan and Ohio — all the while searching for Democratic votes in the November election.

From West Virginia, Johnson was bound for Dallastown, Pa., to help celebrate the community's 100th birthday. Many of the local menfolk have grown beards for the occasion.

Discussing global water problems at Summersville, Johnson said the United States will sponsor an international conference on water for peace in Washington next May 23-31. The Soviet Union and a number of other MENASHA — Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of President Johnson, slipped quietly into the Fox Cities late Friday night.

The 22-year-old brunette is here to spend the Labor Day weekend as the guest of the Lewis Phenners, whose son, Michael, 28, is a social aide at the White House.

Miss Johnson has dated Phenner.

But a member of the family states emphatically there is "No romance. They are just good friends."

In addition to being an aide at the White House, Phenner is a captain in the U. S. Army's Judge Advocate-General Corps. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame in both undergraduate school and law school.

The Phenner family received the word at 10 a.m. Friday that the President's daughter might be visiting the Twin Cities.

Four Secret Service men arrived at the Phenner home in the afternoon and installed a government "hot line."

At 7 p.m. Friday, the family was still waiting definite word on when Miss Johnson would arrive.

The drizzly weather caused the family some concern, as did the return of a swarm of lake flies, but the rains held off and the flies disappeared before Phenner and Lynda Bird drove up in a white Lincoln just before midnight.

Their car was followed by one driven by a Secret Service man.

One of the Secret Service men is staying at the house. The four-man security team will have a job on its hands today because Miss Johnson wants to keep the visit strictly a private one.

"They definitely don't want to be interviewed," a family member explained.

The senior Phenner is a former senior vice president of the Kimberly Clark Corp., who retired last summer.

The older Johnson sister has been seen in public recently in the company of Hollywood actor George Hamilton. In 1964 she was engaged to an ensign, Bernard Rosebach and there was talk of a discreet nuptial ceremony.

She and Phenner will be staying at the Phenner home until Monday when they return to Milwaukee for a return flight to the White House.

Approves Plan Of Annexation

BELOIT (AP) — The City Council approved a proposal Friday to double Beloit's geographical area and increase its estimated population from 39,000 to 55,000.

The council voted 6-0 to ask Circuit Court authorization for a referendum under which residents of a 13-square-mile area would be asked to agree to annexation.

The area includes several subdivisions in Beloit and Turtle Township.

Communist nations will be invited to send representatives to the assembly. Johnson had announced last year that such a conference would be held, but its timing had not been disclosed before.

Big Argument

The President's big argument for pure water on an earth-circling scale was based on the assumption that people denied it will fight for it.

Even today, he said, nearly half a billion persons live in poor countries that draw their water from unclean sources.

Noting that water needs are great today — and he cited the continuing drought in the northeastern United States — Johnson wondered aloud what the situation might be at the end of the century when experts predict the present global population of 3 billion will have doubled.

The battle for pure water must be won, he said, adding: "A genuine peace cannot be founded in a desert, or among crowded nations starved for this elemental — yes, this divine — gift."

Johnson Says World Choice Water or War

speechmaking routes in recent weeks, a first-term Democrat is facing strong opposition from a Republican challenger. The incumbent is Rep. N. Neiman Craley Jr.

The one-day foray into West Virginia and Pennsylvania — Johnson is due back at the White House before dark — is the prelude to a heavier schedule Monday, when Johnson will travel to Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., and Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio.

The Democratic party will pick up the tab for the President's expenses on Labor Day.

Today's trip, with its presidential appearances, at civic functions, was labeled "nonpolitical" by the White House.

However, Johnson, has been managing to find nonpolitical occasions to visit congressional districts where freshmen Democrats face potential troubles — and he is known to believe that his own popularity, sagging a bit in the polls of late, benefits from personal exposure.

Flood Control

The $46-million Summersville dam on Gauley River backs up a flood control reservoir designed to help control the waters of the Ohio and Mississippi river basins. In addition, a public recreation area is being established along the banks of the man-made lake behind the dam.

If the weather posed an element of uncertainty in West Virginia, possible racial violence could upset the President's Labor Day visit to Dayton.

Johnson's intention to visit the Ohio city was announced Thursday shortly before National Guardsmen were ordered into the streets there to quell rioting and looting in a Negro section following the fatal shooting of a Negro man.

The sheriff for the county immediately urged that the presidential visit be canceled. The White House said that, as of today, Johnson will go to Dayton.

Called Unwarranted Milwaukee Protest Shifts to Rep. Zablocki

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Democratic congressman, who says his record on civil rights proves him a friend of Negroes, has become the latest target of a youth group provoked by membership of public officials in whites-only clubs.

The small band that picketed silently Friday night in front of the modest home of Rep. Clement J. Zablocki promised another appearance tonight in the south-side, middle-income Milwaukee neighborhood.

"My record in civil rights legislation is such that it wouldn't warrant this kind of demonstration," Zablocki said. He was home for the weekend celebrating the 13th birthday of his son, Joseph. The family remained in the house during the picketing.

Eagles Member

Like earlier subjects of picketing—Judges Robert C. Cannon (11 nights) and Christ Seraphim (2 nights)—Zablocki is a member of the Fraternal order of Eagles.

The Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had hoped the officials would resign from the Eagles.

Concern eased Friday over possible Labor Day incidents — such as the one last Sunday when the National Guard was called to suburban Wauwatosa to protect the pickets from thousands of jeering whites.

Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette said the youth council had pledged to hold no nighttime demonstrations in police-shy suburbs. The homes of Rep. Zablocki and Judge Seraphim are in Milwaukee proper. Judge Cannon lives in Wauwatosa.

The marching group of about 50 Friday was one of the smallest since the demonstrations began Aug. 19. It included the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest who has become a leader in the protests, two nuns and a man and wife who brought their infant children.

Four clergymen will speak Sunday at a "quit the Eagles day" planned on the county courthouse steps. The program, sponsored by two civil rights organizations, is expected to follow hour-long picketing at the Eagles Club.

mentioned a land attack against the north.

On the political scene, Thieu announced he had no plans to run for president next year.

The Viet Cong's clandestine liberation radio has stepped up its drive to keep South Vietnamese from voting in the Sept. 11 national election — promising "merciless punishment" to anyone who takes part.

Backing up their threats in the populous Saigon-Gia Dinh capital district, the Viet Cong killed 12 persons and wounded 18 others Thursday in attacks on a civilian bus and a village election office.

The South Vietnamese government countered the moves with increased patrols and a decree providing life imprisonment for anyone convicted of sabotaging the voting.

Campaign meetings have been sparsely attended, although the election is only eight days away. Part of the reason is that those elected will be restricted to writing a new constitution and will have no legislative functions.

West won with the queen of hearts and returned a heart to the ace. Now East returned the deuce of diamonds, and South was on the verge of losing his contract.

"Why is East in such a hurry to lead diamonds?" South wondered. "Is this a natural play, or is he trying some monkey business?"

If East were a strong defender he might well have a very good picture of the South hand. If a strong East had the king of diamonds, he might be returning a diamond in the hope of talking declarer out of a normal finesse.

South knew that East was not that strong a player. If this particular East had the king of diamonds he would lead some other suit and wait for South to tackle the diamonds by himself. If East didn't have the king of

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband died when our son was two years old. Mike is now 17 and I am very proud of him. His scholastic record is excellent and he has earned recognition in sports.

Mike has always enjoyed swimming and he used to go to the pool often — until this year. When I noticed he was making up excuses not to go with his friends I became suspicious. Yesterday I learned the reason and now I need your advice.

Mike was mowing the lawn when one of his friends walked by and yelled, "Hi, Ape. Tried out for any Tarzan pictures lately?"

Mike's face turned crimson. He did not answer. I asked Mike what it was all about. He replied, "I have hair growing all over my back and shoulders and the kids call me 'Ape.'"

As dealer, you hold: S Q J 9 8; H K J; D A J 9 6 4; C K 8. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond. The hand is not particularly good for an opening bid of one notrump (although this was the bid chosen when the hand was actually played) because of the two doubletons and the fact that there are only 15 points in high cards. Most experts require 16 points for an opening bid of one notrump.

The kids are afraid of their daddy. When they do something wrong they beg me not to tell him. I usually say, "O.K. if you promise not to do it again."

Dear Undecided: You are UNDER-protecting your children and I hope you see this answer before somebody catches on fire.

Don't make deals with those kids. Work on your husband to be less harsh with them. You'll have better children and a better marriage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For years our mother complained about aches and pains although extensive examinations failed to show anything organically wrong. She also lied constantly. We all covered up for her because we believed she was a mental case.

Last month a psychiatrist told us that mother's mind is perfectly O.K. and that she has kept us all under her thumb by pretending to be ill.

My brother and sister and I are furious. We have decided to tell our friends the truth. Father continues to lie and says since she is our mother we should lie, too.

I say he is encouraging us to do wrong and, mother or no mother, we do not owe her that. What do you say? — Honorable Betty

Dear Betty: It's hard to believe a psychiatrist told you your mother's mind is "perfectly O.K." If he did, he must have played hooky the day his class studied hypochondria.

Any person who continually complains about aches and pains when the physicians can find no organic illness is ill in the head and this can be more crippling than an organic disease.

Your lack of compassion is revolting.

Parsons among present-day Parsis are the Tatas, who started India's first textile mill and now are national leaders in textiles, steel, nuclear research and scores of other fields. An air service started as a Tata subsidiary later became Air India, the country's international airline.

Other Parsis include M. R. Masani, prominent member of Parliament, and K.R.P. Shroff, who retired this year as president of the Bombay Stock Exchange.

George Gandhi, late husband of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, was a Parsi; and Parsi Dhadabai Nadroji was the first Indian member of the British Parliament.

'Tower of Silence'

To the outsider, the Parsis are perhaps best known for their "Tower of Silence," an imposing moutaintop structure in Bombay where the Parsi dead are taken. Aside from its beautifully landscaped gardens and iron gates which keep out nonbelievers, the tower is distinguished by an ever-present flock of vultures soaring overhead.

The tower has walls 18 feet tall surrounding a circular concrete platform 300 feet in circumference and with a deep opening in the center. The platform has three rows for bodies, the outer one for men, middle for women and center for children.

After the vultures strip the flesh and the bones disintegrate, rainfall washes the dust into the center shaft and then into four underground drains leading to four deep wells. Charcoal and sandstone in the drains purify the water before it reaches the wells.

"In the old days, a body was taken to the highest hill and left to be 'burned' by the sun," says Rustum K. Masani, noted Parsi author, in explaining how the Tower of Silence fits in with the Parsi fire worship.

'Good Life'

Masani emphasizes the living aspects of the Parsi religion. In fact, he says "I call our religion the religion of 'good life'."

"We have no penance, no fasting, we are concerned only with building our character. Most of the charitable institutions in Bombay were founded by Parsis."

Parsi girls frequently marry out of their colony. This has been one factor in the Parsi colony's failure to keep pace with India's great population growth.

Another is the higher level of education given Parsi women.

"Like others in India who obtain higher education and then have trouble finding employment, the Parsis have begun to look abroad."

"Lots of young Parsis are going to Canada," says Miss Rashna Khambatta, 20, an Air India employee.

"It offers a lot and, because it is another commonwealth — country, it is easier to get there than to the United States," Miss Khambatta says.

Unless the trend is reversed, the Parsis may in time disappear from Indian society.

Old acquaintances were renewed as pastors of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches in Wisconsin participated in a week of fellowship, study and discussion here this week. From left are the Rev. William A. Riggs, formerly of Neenah and now Janesville district superintendent; David Schilling, student pastor now located in Sturgeon Bay; his father, the Rev. Marvin Schilling, former pastor of First Methodist Church, Appleton and now Milwaukee area district superintendent; the Rev. Clarence Kelly, formerly of Neenah and now the Green Bay district superintendent, and the Rev. Roy Steen, now pastor at Beaver Dam after formerly serving at Neenah and also as Appleton area district superintendent. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Four Interceptions
Thwart Dolphins'
Drives, Cost Victory

By MIKE RECHT

It was just like old times for Dick Wood and the Oakland Raiders. He threw and they caught.
Only one problem: he plays now for the new Miami Dolphins.
So Wood's misguided accuracy cost the Dolphins a shocking upset in their first regular season game as they lost to the Raiders 23-14 in the American Football League opener.
The AFL resumes its regular season tonight when Denver plays at Houston and Sunday when Buffalo and San Diego, last year's championship game opponents, meet in San Diego, Calif.
In the NFL exhibitions to-night, Cleveland plays Pittsburgh at Birmingham, Ala.;

Xavier Opens Grid Season

Xavier High School will strive to keep one streak alive (eight straight victories) and shatter another (two season-opening losses in a row) when it launches the 1966 Appleton football season Sunday night.
Hill High School of St. Paul, a new foe for the Hawks, will invade Goodland Field for the 8 p.m. kick-off.

Sell Season Tickets
Xavier High School season football tickets, for both students and adults, will be sold from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Sunday at the school. They will also be available at the Goodland Field gate before Sunday's 8 p.m. opener against St. Paul Hill.
Averages 27.1 Points
After that loss, the 1965 Hawks bristled back for eight straight wins, chalking up yardage at a 285 per-game clip. Over-all, Xavier scored 27.1 points a game and held its opposition to a 6.1 average.
Lost from the '65 team — one of the stronger units in the notable 7-year Xavier coaching career of Gene (Torchy) Clark — are such all-conference performers as Colin Smith, Tim Wenzel, Paul Rechner, Jim Zwicker and Mike Heideman. Also missing are such other solid players as Jack Herb, Mike Van Lieshout, Larry Van Dyke, Mike Gregorius and Dennis Mannebach.
Smith was the team's leading scorer, with 45 points, and Heideman was runnerup, with 37.
In the realm of experience, this year's situation is similar to that of '64. In that season, a relatively green Xavier crew took its lumps for three straight outings before uncorking a 6-game win streak that brought with it a co-championship.
The 1966 Xavier team has a number of good football players at the start of play, but it remains to be seen if there are opening confrontation of a big school (1,150 boys) like Hill.
Heading the Hawk cast is returning regular Tom Heinrich, a fast - reacting, hard-hitting player who was named to the all-FVCC team on offense last year and on the second team defensively. He tied for third in team scoring in '65, with Paul Rechner and Terry Graff, at 31 points.

Averages 7.4 Yards
Terry Graff, who saw considerable action as a running back last year, averaged 7.4 yards a carry. Clark says that the swift senior can take a tackle in the thighs as well as any player he's coached. Terry has also stood out on

Hayes Leads Cowboys Past Vikings, 28-24
44-, 48-Yard Scoring Strikes Give Dallas 5-0 Exhibition Mark
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Swift Bob Hayes outraced the Minnesota secondary twice on long touchdown passes as the undefeated Dallas Cowboys beat Minnesota 28-24 in a National Football League exhibition Friday night.
Hayes, world record holder in the sprints, fielded a 48-yard scoring toss from Don Meredith in the third quarter and a 44-yard one from Craig Morton in the final period.
Dallas' iron defense shut out Minnesota most of the second half after the Vikings took a 10-7 halftime lead on Bill Brown's one yard run and Fred Cox' 24 yard field goal in the second quarter. It was the first time in five pre-season games the Cowboys yielded a touchdown on the ground.
John Kirby's interception of Morton's pass on the Dallas 16 gave Minnesota a touchdown with less than three minutes left in the game. Fran Tarkenton's second touchdown pass to Paul Flatley accounted for the final score.
The Cowboys, in winning their fifth and last exhibition game, rewarded 58,316 fans in the Cotton Bowl with an 80-yard touchdown drive the first time they got the ball.

Shoots 68, Makes Up 8 Strokes

Gray Ties Beman for Lead

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—Deane Beman, seeking to become the first man since Bobby Jones to win three U.S. national amateur golf titles, and Downing Gray were tied for the lead going into today's final round.
Gray fired a third round two under par 68 Friday over the windswept Merion Golf Club course to make up eight strokes on the front running Beman.
Beman slipped to a six-over-par 76, which included a triple bogey seven on the 15th hole. Each had 214 for 54 holes, four over par for the 6,509-yard course.
Only a stroke behind were Mike Morley, Minot, N.D., and Ron Cerrudo, San Rafael, Calif. Each shot par 70 Friday for 215s.
Bracketed at 216 were Dick Siderowf Westport, Conn.; Don Allen, Rochester, N.Y.; and Roger McManus, Hartsville, Ohio. Siderowf shot 72 Allen 73, and McManus 74 in the third round.
Lewis Takes 75
Jack Lewis Jr., Florence, S.C., who tied for the lead at the end of 45 holes, took a 75 for 217.
A Walker Cup team member from Pensacola, Fla., Gray holed birdie putts of eight, six and 15 feet for a two under par 34 going out, and matched par 34 on Merion's bunker dotted course through the back nine.
Gray doesn't lack for confidence. A runner-up for this title in 1962 when it was match play, he finished his third round and calmly predicted:
"I think I can catch Beman."

He didn't know it then, but out on the tough little course Beman was having his troubles. True to his word the slightly built insurance executive from Maryland attacked, but the course snapped back. He made the turn in one over par 37, and appeared to have his game in hand as he played par golf on 10 through 14. But then disaster struck.
On the 378-yard 15th hole, Beman drove the ball 270 yards and out of bounds.
He bogeyed two of the last three holes to come back to the field. The rough round, however, failed to shake his confidence.
"I didn't play much better Thursday when I had 67," he said. "It wasn't my fault. I hit good shots."

Packers to Duel Giants in Final Pre-Season Contest

3-Way Struggle for Green Bay's
Tight End Spot Will Continue
Tonight at County Stadium

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE — The burning exhibition season question comes up for final review here tonight.
The momentous poser, of course, is: How good are the 1966 Packers?
No concrete conclusions have emerged from the defending National Football League champions' first for ventures along the pre-season trail, which saw them burst from the barrier with a 38-0 rout of the College All-Stars, then stumble against the Chicago Bears (13-10) and Dallas Cowboys (21-3) as Vince Lombardi, in something of a departure from custom, experimented extensively.
They rebounded from those misfortunes to decision the Pittsburgh Steelers (17-6) last time out, but taskmaster Lombardi, shooting for a fourth world championship in six years, labeled the performance "fair" ... that's all.
Tonight, the Packers encounter the fast developing New York Giants in County Stadium in what will be their last pre-season test before facing up to the challenge of the vengeful Baltimore Colts on the same sod one week hence.
The overall quality of the Bill Anderson, one of three players battling for the Green Bay Packers' tight-end job, will face the New York Giants in Milwaukee tonight.

Strand Goes
To Pittsburgh
On Waivers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers have claimed Eli Strand, an offensive tackle placed on waivers earlier this week by the Green Bay Packers, defending National Football League champions.
Strand, an offensive guard on the Packer taxi squad last season, was shifted to offensive tackle this year. The 6-foot-2, 250-pound lineman played college ball at Iowa State.
A Packer spokesman said Friday that Strand's departure reduced the club roster to the 43 players permitted under league rules at this time. Three more must be cut by next Tuesday.

Pack, bidding for a 10th straight victory over the Giants, is not the only matter that awaits clarification in this one. A decision also must be made at tight end, a trouble spot since Ron Kromer played out his option in '64 in order to join the Detroit Lions.
To date, incumbent Bill Anderson, 4-year veteran Marv Fleming and rookie Allen Brown, the heralded graduate of last year's taxi squad, have been alternating at the post. All three have drawn the starting assignment along the way and

On English Course

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Those four to one odds the gamblers put on Bill Casper to win the $200,000 Carling Golf Tournament weeks ago looked like a good bet today for those who backed the American.
Casper strode into the final round of the 72 hole medal play tournament with a 216, one shot behind leader Kel Nagle of Australia.
The smarties were taking a lot of notice of the shift in wind and weather off the Irish Sea. Nagle held his lead Friday by shooting a par 73 over the 7,037-yard Royal Birkdale course. At the same time, Casper, the U.S. open champion was doing a cracking four under par 69 to leap back into contention.
Casper's round was by far the best of the championship even though it was not the lowest. Bert Yancey, of Radnor, Pa., beat it with a course record equalling 68 Thursday when the weather was fine. Playing with Nagle Friday he shot a 76 for 217, which put him two shots off the pace.
Yancey stayed in the hunt largely because of a 30-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 18th hole.
Going into the final round there were only eight players under par and a mere three who equaled it. Nagle at 215 was trailed by Casper at 216. At 217 were Bruce Devlin of Australia and Yancey. In with 218 were Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina, Peter Thomson of Australia, Terry Dill of Muleshoe, Tex., and Neil Coles of England.

Don Skogmo's Car
Hits Guard Rail
In Practice Run

ELKHART LAKE (AP)—Don Skogmo, a veteran sports car driver from Minneapolis, Minn., was killed Friday during a practice run for Sunday's 500 mile Road America race.
Skogmo, 36, was traveling more than 100 miles per hour when his new Lola-Chev T-70 spun out of control during a light rain and slammed into a guard rail.
Track officials said Skogmo was a member of the family that founded the Gamble-Skogmo merchandising chain and was former Minneapolis region executive of the Sports Car Club of America. He had been racing since 1950.
This was the fifth fatality since the Road America track opened in 1956. All but one of the deaths occurred during practice runs.

De Gaulle's Massive Tour

President de Gaulle's massive tour of little countries — some 27,000 miles in a scant 19 days — is aimed at extending French influence if not French power in a part of the world where it has been violently rejected and evicted. The journey is likely to be at least a partial success and for this it rests on man's short memory.

The most important stop is Cambodia where De Gaulle visits with Prince Sihanouk, a critic of American involvement. But his welcome could certainly not have been imagined two decades ago when, although Cambodia had a semblance of independence, Viet Nam was fighting for its independence — against the French. French customs, habits and language have remained in much of what was once Indochina and they are probably being remembered now with some nostalgia in the light of the new terror in the land with which the Americans are inevitably — if not quite honestly — linked.

But De Gaulle's desire to be portrayed now as a father figure come to give advice and perhaps offer help to independent nations was marred by the bloody demonstrations in French Somaliland, his first stop, where instant independence was demanded. And while he received a royal and elaborate welcome in Ethiopia, there was no new treaty.

De Gaulle's influence in Asia, however, could become greater. There is no sign that Ho Chi Minh trusts him but then the North Vietnamese understandably trust no one and perhaps especially not their half-hearted allies, the Russians and the Chinese. If Ho speaks to Sihanouk who speaks to De Gaulle, there might be an avenue opened up for peace talks if peace ever becomes really wanted by both sides.

We may decry De Gaulle's insistence on pulling France away from close cooperation with the rest of Europe and his refusal to let the United States dominate the continent, at least the French part. We may chuckle at his arrogance, warn of his influence in West Germany, and criticize his trips to Moscow, but we must also wonder whether any other Frenchman could have brought France to its current healthy economy, its recognition that holding on to Algeria and fighting in Viet Nam were both errors, in fact its world position which makes De Gaulle's trip in itself quite an event.

Stop the (Flat) World

Another ultra-right group has received its coup.

The marvelous pictures of the earth taken by cameras on Lunar Orbiter 1 as it neared the moon have impressed a lot of people. But they sadly demoralized Samuel Shenton of London who is the lone officer of a British-based group known as the International Flat Earth Society. But Shenton has bounced back.

"I confess it really knocked me," he told a reporter. "It was a terrible shock" to see the pictures of an obviously round earth. But he is beginning to take heart in a suspicion that the pictures aren't really of the earth at all but of "one of the nonluminous bodies between us and the moon." Besides he contradicts scientists who have studied the pictures and say "that they can pick out a portion of Antarctica from the sublit portion. Well, now, if that is Antarctica all in sunshine at this time of the year, then it means we were in midwinter."

The IFES believes that the earth does not move at all and that it is shaped something like a shallow soup dish and stays firmly fixed at the bottom of an immense pit. Somewhere near the top of the pit the sun and the moon, each about 32 miles across their own flat sides, zoom around making it night, day and harvest moon time. And it's one of those nonluminous bodies that makes eclipses as well as phases of the moon.

Mr. Shenton, whose beliefs are now apparently shared only by the 24 members of IFES, is somewhat a hopeful figure in this world of the last third of the 20th Century. At least we aren't all complete conformists.

A True Ecumenical Dialogue

Headlines have been made recently as prominent Lutheran and Roman Catholic theologians offered opinions which provoked heated discussion and probably would have been considered heresy by their church bodies a few decades ago.

The first uproar occurred when the Rev. Dr. Carl Braaten of the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago called the Catholic Church the "ecclesiastical homeland" of Protestants, and said that an independent church was the "farthest thing" from Luther's mind. He added the Protestants should look upon the Reformation as an event in history which accomplished the reforms it desired, and strive for unity in the church.

The Rev. Harry McSorley created more controversy when he said the core of the Reformation was an argument between Luther and Rome on the doctrine of grace — and Luther was right. The Paulist priest, who has just completed five years of study in German universities, said Luther was upholding the doctrine of the unfree will as taught by St. Paul. St. Augustine and various councils that God's grace is necessary to take the first step toward salvation. The Catholic theologian contends Luther's position became different from Rome's only after the Vatican refused to see the correctness of his original position.

While it is certain that many of their fellow church members will not agree with the statements made by the two clergymen, an important aspect of the ecumenical movement is demonstrated by them.

This is the need for discussion and a probing of the differences which separate the various areas of Christianity. The differences in doctrine and practice will not disappear by being ignored. Neither can they be glossed over in a grand unity movement. But before these differences are discussed, they must be understood.

This was pointed out well in the text of a recent joint report by Roman Catholic and Lutheran World Federation study commissions:

"The deep differences that have developed between the Roman Catholic Church and the Lutheran churches should not be overlooked. These differences will be honestly recognized and taken seriously with mutual respect for convictions.

"We cannot take it for granted that we know each other's positions. To deal in our discussion only in categories of 'things we already know' is completely insufficient. Apologetic haste, oversimplification and hidden prejudice are harmful and dangerous. Patience is needed to go into questions seriously and loyally."

The point made by these two groups of learned theologians, representing the largest Christian body and the largest Protestant faith, is well worth noting while ecumenical discussions and proposals increase.

Unity must stem from an honest attempt to understand the other's position coupled with prayer and the belief of all parties that their God will guide them. Then true ecumenicalism is possible.

Proposal: To build two more federal dams on the Colorado River.

Result: Torrents of oratory, in Congress, in the press, in public forums.

Congress seems about to close in on the climactic phase of bill simply titled H.R. 4671, the Colorado River Basin Project Act. The bill was approved in July by the House Interior Committee, by a vote of 22 to 10, and may shortly come to the floor for action.

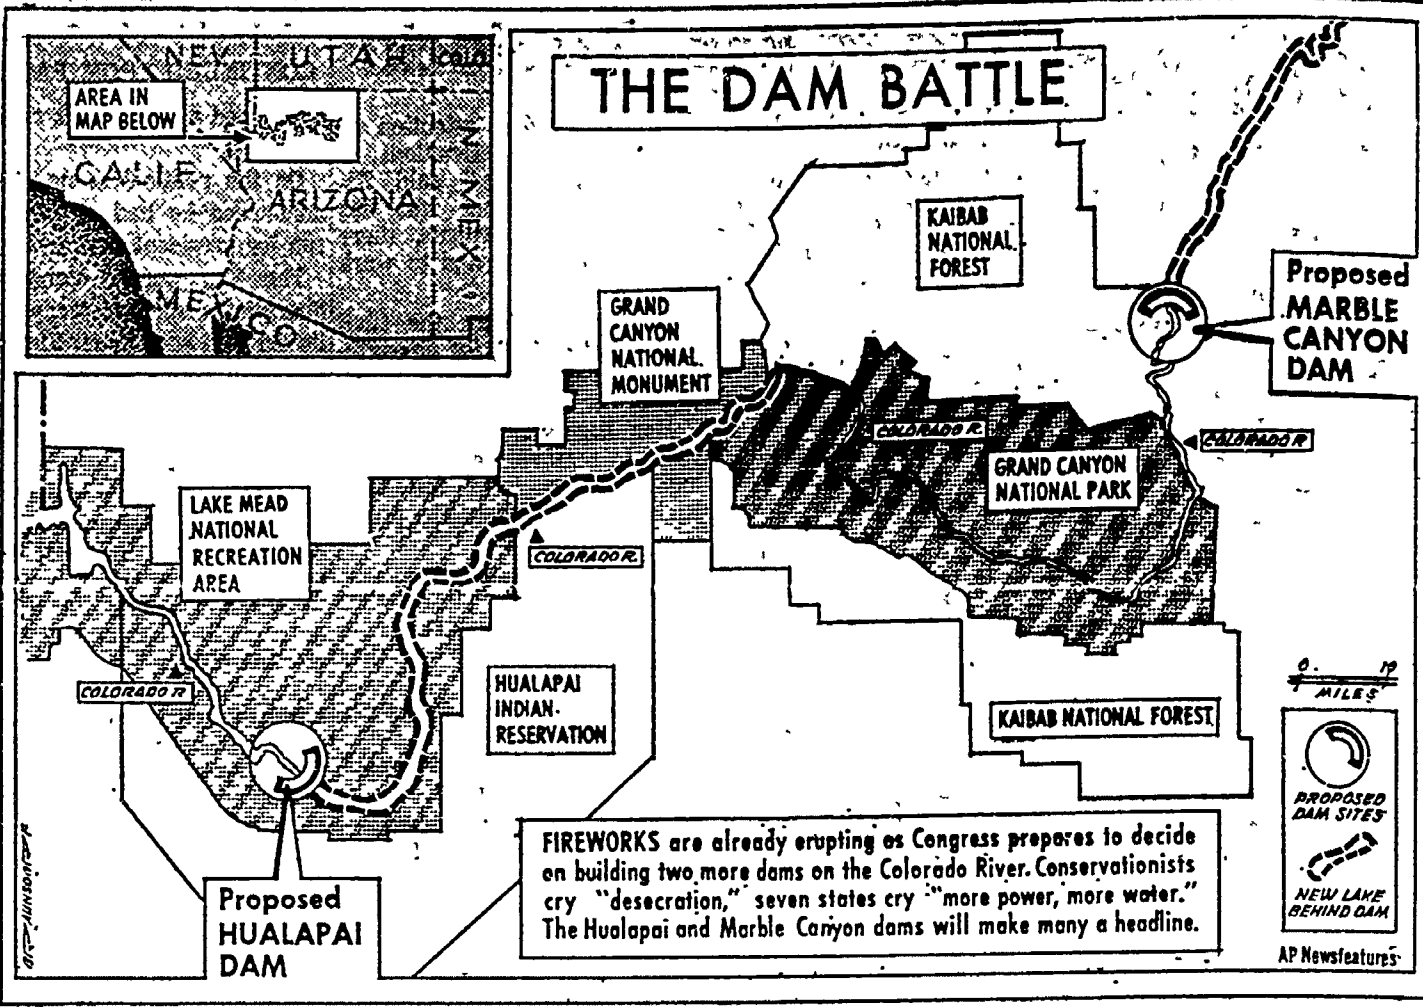

The proponents are seven states of the southwest — Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming — embracing some 30 million people. The opponents: such conservationist groups as the National Audubon Society, the Sierra Club, the National Parks Association.

The plan is to build one dam in Marble Canyon, above Grand Canyon National Park, and another in Bridge Canyon (also called Hualapai), below the park. The former, 310 feet high, would develop 600,000 kilowatts of power; the latter, 673 feet high, 1.5 million kilowatts. Money from the sale of this power would be used for reclamation and water projects in the seven states.

In brief, the proponents contend the people of their states need the power and the water of the Colorado basin, and this plan would secure it with no harm to Grand Canyon and at little cost to the government. Opponents declare the dams would ruin forever the beauty of the Grand Canyon.

Where the equity lies, each may decide for himself, but here are some of the principal arguments and rebuttals:

—Charge: Marble Canyon

dam would alter the flow of the Colorado River through Grand Canyon National Park.

Retort: No more nor less than does Glen Canyon dam already.

—Charge: Recreation values would be destroyed. Retort: Quite the contrary, it would open the region to millions of people. Cited: Lake Powell, behind Glen Canyon dam, was once a treacherous chasm visited by a handful of the intrepid. Last year 700,000 people enjoyed it for swimming, boating, fishing and sightseeing.

—Charge: The majestic

scenery of the Grand Canyon will be lost forever. Retort: Neither dam is within Grand Canyon National Park, and neither one nor its lake can be seen from the rim of the canyon. Bridge Canyon lake would back up for 13 miles along the lower edge of the park, in a remote area seldom visited.

—Charge: The level of the lakes will fluctuate, leaving unsightly mud flats at low water. Retort: The lakes will be held at constant level.

—Charge: Coal or nuclear power would answer the purpose. Retort: They would not, because hydro-electric power is the most desirable for "peaking" — turning the power up when it is needed, down when it is not.

—Charge: Wildlife habitats would be wiped out, for example the big-horn sheep. Retort: They said the same thing about Lake Powell, but the big-horn sheep have actually increased.

—Charge: Invaluable Indian and archeological remains would be drowned. Retort: By scientists: Most of the research has long since been done. By Indians: Tribal Chairman George Rocha of the Hualapai tribe, where Bridge Canyon lake would rise —

"Why don't you stop thinking about rocks and think about people? We do not wish to remain isolated in a canyon wilderness just so a few people can play at being brave explorers in the 20th Century."

There are many other arguments, of course — the literature on both sides has already mounted nearly as high as the dams — and the outcome is far from clear. H.R. 4671 still must pass both houses of Congress and be signed by the president. Is it a desecration of a national treasure, or the salvation of the southwest?

Wisconsin Report

Sen. Nelson Scrupulously Avoids Primary Campaign Involvement

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who probably has a larger personal following in the state than any other Democratic politician now on the Wisconsin stage, is carefully avoiding a personal involvement in the strenuous fight for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

Wyngaard

But his coat-tails are showing, nevertheless.

David Carley, the Democratic national committeeman who probably owes that job to Nelson's favor, is doing everything short of clausuring Nelson's personal endorsement to persuade the Nelson supporters around the state that he is the junior senator's choice over Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

Nor is there much doubt that if Nelson could enter a closed booth and cast the deciding vote to break a tie between Carley and Lucey that he would choose his old friend and principal associate of his gubernatorial career, or more particularly, to get rid of Lucey with whom he quarreled regularly and publicly during the period that Nelson was governor and Lucey was the boss of the state party organization.

But Nelson is in a peculiarly difficult position. Aside from his own personal tastes in the matter, he could not involve himself officially without offending the stubborn adherence of the party as an institution to the "open primary" idea.

1968 NEARS

Moreover, he could not gracefully involve himself on Carley's side, the institutional rules of the party notwithstanding, without offending those substantial forces in Lucey's corner and who remember that it was Lucey, after all, who held the reins of the party machine at the time that Nelson surprised the state to become the first Democratic governor in a quarter of a century.

Finally, Nelson is one of the most careful politicians among the contemporary practitioners of the art in this state, and doubtless has kept closely informed of the outlook in the primary contest. Lucey is the favorite in the primary in almost all of the assessments within and outside the party. If the Democrats have any serious chance of recovering the statehouse this fall, Lucey is likely to be the man who will carry their banner. To intervene in the primary against Lucey would raise the possibility, at the least, that the senator would have a lukewarm or an antagonistic governor in power in 1968, when he will campaign for a new term for his own office.

Another intangible and hard to measure factor in the primary election outlook that is increasingly worrying the participants is the likelihood of a so called "cross-over" vote.

THE "CROSS-OVER"

Republicans have no statewide contests, and fewer than usual local and district contests in the primary. Democrats have an exceptional fight for the leadership of their state ticket, among others. Will that persuade Republicans, or tempt them, to vote in the Democratic column, for the candidate who impresses them most, or against the candidate they least admire?

The history of Wisconsin electoral behavior provides no reliable guidelines. Cross-over voting has been common enough but mostly it has involved Democrats crossing. Republicans have historically provided the primary day attractions to the hostile or independent voter. Nothing like the present primary lineup has ever before been shown.

In such situations experienced party men make assumptions that seem likely to serve their own cause. Thus Republican headquarters is now quietly urging local organizations to promote the idea of straight Republican ticket voting on primary election day, while Democrats are not so subtly suggesting that Republicans should move over, if only for that instant it requires to mark the Democratic ballot. Some of the Carley speeches are thinly disguised appeals. Lucey has abandoned all pretense of mystery about it in his paid promotion announcements claiming that "thoughtful Republicans" like him.

People's Forum Liberal Movement in Wisconsin Is 'Fraud'

Editor, Post-Crescent:

At no time in the past 50 years this writer can recall, during which we worked in the liberal movement of politics, the Republican Party has the status of the liberals so degenerated. Many years ago the great labor leader John L. Lewis, in reply to a query about the "labor movement," shocked his audience, when in stentorian tones, he replied, "there is no labor movement." That is exactly the situation today in the "liberal movement."

Whatever credit we give the Democrats herein for being the party of the liberals is done with tongue in cheek, especially the Wisconsin Democrats, whose rise to power on the coattails of FDR has since become a fraud on liberalism. The U.S. senator elected with FDR was a fake liberal and parlayed a mediocre career as a Democrat into a lifetime job. Many — in fact most — of the so-called liberals who went to Madison on the coattails of FDR, were complete frauds as liberals, and collaborated and conspired to hamstrung the Progressives. They succeeded in thwarting just about every Progressive program brought up to benefit the masses.

And if there are any of these gents around who would like to take issue with my views, we would like to prove it by voting records we have stowed away for more than 30 years. The state Democratic machine was so decadent and unprogressive that FDR refused to deal with them and instead chose to call in Bob and Phil LaFollette. It was so unimaginative that Bob and Phil led the Progressives back into the Republican fold at Baraboo in 1946. Many of the old Progressives are still around and no doubt cast many wondering thoughts as to what motive took such men as Reynolds, Nelson, Proxmire and Bronson LaFollette into a phony cause. These men would have done the people a far greater service had they chosen to join up with and make the Republican Party the party of the people instead of the party of the privileged, as it surely stands today.

We have Democratic congressmen today spending sleepless hours pondering if they should shuck off the phony image of Johnson and Humphrey — casting sly remarks that Bob Kennedy will no doubt come to Wisconsin, a fact many of us have known to be a fact for a long time. The "kill the Kennedy image crusade" has backfired both nationally and in Wisconsin to such an extent that many are just looking for the most advantageous coattail to ride on. In one case we know from personally hearing the words spoken, a freshman congressman on his first trip home (Feb. 1965) was given some sage and valuable advice to shake off the Johnson and the war image or find himself in trouble in 1966. It took some 18 months for this man to come to realize these words were taken far too lightly at the time. Only in the last few weeks has he come to realize the "sorry plight of the farmer" and the horrors of Viet Nam.

The tiptoe-through-the-tulips attitude of state Democrats from the top man down is just a comic performance exelling the comic antics of anything Mr. Strauss dreamed up in his departure from the sublime, when he wrote Die Fledermaus. Mr. Strauss must have had long distance vision and the eerie ability to look forward some 80 years and see things as they are today. Strauss wrote many characters into that opera we have today, including the rejected suitor, the masks, etc.

"We have no men now living within the limits of the Republic who avow themselves to be rebels, or to act as rebels."

Timothy O. Howe said that at Madison. Put it on record against the time when he denies its utterance.

But the judge is slightly mistaken. We have many men who "act as rebels" and who are "rebels" against our system of government; prominent among them appears to be the form of a Green Bay Senator.

Man Fools Wife By Parking Car Inside Garage

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Not long ago, William Loder got a telephone call from his wife, who reported that the car was stolen.

"I've already called the police," she said.

"Call the Automobile Club too," he suggested, then hung up.

He called home a few minutes later and asked his wife if she had looked in the garage.

"The garage!" exclaimed Mrs. Loder. "Since when did you put the car in there?"

Like so many people, Loder invariably left his car parked in the driveway — except this one time, when he put it in the garage.

After the incident, the Loders decided to park the car there every night.

People's Forum Does 'Annie' Really Need Rough Talk?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As two people who had the privilege of attending "Annie, Get Your Gun" last Sunday, we noted with careful interest your reporter's review of this fine Attic Theatre performance.

We find ourselves in agreement with almost everything he wrote. We thought that Charles Seter, in particular, together with several others, brought excellent voice and understanding to his role.

It was something your reviewer did not refer to that bothers us, however. Why, in a Christian community, and in a play whose cast is surely composed primarily of Christians and church members, must the dialog include an enthusiastic assortment of "damns" and "hells"? Why, especially in a play which supposedly is "family type" entertainment (and it does have much of interest and enjoyment for children), and which, judging by the many little ones scattered throughout the audience, was considered just that by many parents?

Surely any director worth his salt (and the director of "Annie" obviously has brought considerable skill to his work) can lead his actors into a convincing job without having to resort to the poverty of language that is offensive to some.

Certainly a play can be realistic without, as well as with, rough language. If it is argued that the "damns" and "hells" are the more typical, then, to be consistent, maybe a few other, stronger terms should have been thrown in.

Here are two votes to make "Annie, Get Your Gun" even better by elimination of the offensive words. We hope the ballot box will receive many more.

Ramp Work to Begin In Soldiers Square

City Council Committee Asks That Parking be Discontinued At Site of Construction

Parking will be discontinued off some parts of streets, we can let the construction company work as close to the site as possible without interfering with downtown traffic."

In other words, the committee emphasized, it will not be necessary to block off or detour any traffic on adjacent Oneida, Lawrence and Morrison streets.

"There will be enough room on the north side of Soldiers Square for trucks and other vehicles making deliveries between Oneida and Morrison streets," Acting Public Works Director Donald Bengs said.

In addition, Standard Construction is expected to have large semi-trucks moving in and out of the area, but with the recommended arrangement there should be no traffic tie-ups.

Existing abutments in Soldiers Square will be removed with the parking meters to provide ample room.

Safest Plan
Officials stressed the plan they have adopted for the construction period is the most practical and safe.

Cost of the 450-car, four-story parking structure will be $726,000, plus land. The low bids for the actual construction were about $75,000 below the original project estimate.

In connection with the start of ramp construction, it was announced by Pointer that the committee would meet soon with property owners in the College Avenue block immediately north of the square to discuss the proposed Soldiers Square pedestrian mall which has been recommended in the central business district plan.

A recent sketch was provided the city by a Detroit architectural firm, blending in the new ramp with the proposed mall and adjoining buildings, which, it is anticipated, will have back entrances remodeled.

Plans Underway
The committee learned that working plans for the College Avenue reconstruction project are on the drawing boards and recommended the hiring of two engineers, one to be the resident inspector on the job for the city. There presently are vacancies in the city engineering department.

In other developments:
—The committee, along with Bengs, said there should be no delays if the city hopes to let the avenue reconstruction project out for bids by Dec. 1 and possibly get favorable quotes from bidders because of the timing.

—Sept. 7 was set as the deadline for aldermen to bring in lists of 1967 street projects to the committee and department of public works to be considered at budget time.

—It was announced the cooperation of the Town of Buchanan would be sought to reconstruct John Street and install sidewalks with city and town residents being assessed accordingly.

Kaukauna Firm to Build New Plant

Giddings and Lewis to Construct $245,000 Machine Shop, Shed

KAUKAUNA — Construction is expected to start soon on a $245,000 machine shop and storage shed building for Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co.

A building permit for the structure was issued Friday by Gene Ditter, Kaukauna building inspector.

The L-shaped building will be located directly behind the new office building.

The 16,000-square foot portion of the building which will be temperature-controlled will be a self-contained assembly building for constructing, painting and shipping numerically controlled machines.

Temperature in the building will be held to within 1½ degree of 75 degrees both in summer and winter. This is necessary because of the automatic machines.

The smaller part of the building will have 10,000 square feet for storing finished parts. Architect for the building is Nichols and Brummel, Green Bay, and general contractor is Howard Immel Inc., Green Bay.

Handle Electric Work
Heating and ventilating and electrical work will be handled by Household Utilities, Kiel. The plumbing contractor is Van Schynde Co., Green Bay. The main assembly building will be equipped with a truck ramp and paint spray booth.

The structure is expected to be completed by February. An estimated 50 men will be added to the payroll after construction is completed. It is the third major addition at the plant in three years.

Alarm Raised Over Potential Road Hazard

Officials Told Waupaca Crossing Will Remain

WAUPACA — Waupaca city officials have become alarmed over a potential death trap which was designed into the U.S. 10 bypass which skirts the southern edge of the city.

The so-called death trap which has been the subject of much discussion in the city, is at the intersection where the old highway joins the bypass on the east end of the new road.

The intersection was the scene Thursday of the first traffic accident on the bypass since its recent opening. An elderly rural driver pulled onto the highway from the intersection and allegedly was struck in the rear by an eastbound car, causing damages in excess of $1,000.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said Friday he had been under the impression that when the high way and east interchange were completed, the intersection which now carries State 49 traffic into the city would be taken out.

However, he said, at a recent meeting where arrangements were made for the official opening of the bypass, State Highway Department engineers said the intersection would remain.

At the present time, the intersection is carrying the traffic into the city from the east end of the interchange and will continue to do so until the east interchange is completed, which will be by Oct. 10.

Several officials have claimed that even after the interchange is completed many people from the Weyauwega area will continue to use the old road and the intersection that has been labeled a death trap.

'Hard to Judge'
"With traffic moving on the bypass at speeds of at least 65 miles an hour it is hard to judge, especially for older drivers, whether or not it is safe to pull onto the highway from the intersection, Matheson said.

"In recent statements in his drive to cut the state highway death toll, Gov. Warren Knowles had said he wants dangerous intersections eliminated, and here is one that was just built," he said.

City engineer Iver Oerter, along with city and county police, agree with Matheson that the intersection is a definite traffic hazard. A similar hazard will be created on the west end of the bypass where the old road joins the new one if the temporary intersection is paved and allowed to remain, a traffic patrolman said.

Appleton Girl, 19, Hurt in Auto Accident

Jean A. Berken, 19, 615 W. Summer St., complained of a sore neck and was advised to consult a physician after a car waiting at a stop sign at N. Meade Street and E. Glendale Avenue at 2:45 p.m. Friday rolled backwards and struck the auto she was driving.

Walter F. Plamann, 51, 929 W. Bell Ave., told police he removed his foot from the brake preparing to enter the intersection and his car rolled backward, striking the Berken vehicle.

No damage was reported to the Plamann car. The Berken vehicle received damage to the hood and grill, police said.

Firm Building Ahead of Plans

Greenville Lumber Facility to Include Office, Two Sheds

GREENVILLE — Building on the Kindt Lumber Co., Lomira, 45 just west of Greenville Corners is ahead of schedule, according to Bruce G. Barter of the Kindt Lumber Co., Lomira.

Construction consists of a main building that houses the office and two large lumber sheds covering about 80,000 square feet.

The Kindt Lumber Co. is owned by Albert and Gustave Kindt who are main owners in the O. H. Kindt Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, manufacturers of millwork.

Began in 1961
The company began in 1961 in Lomira, south of Fond du Lac. They also have property in Plover with anticipated expansion within the next few years.

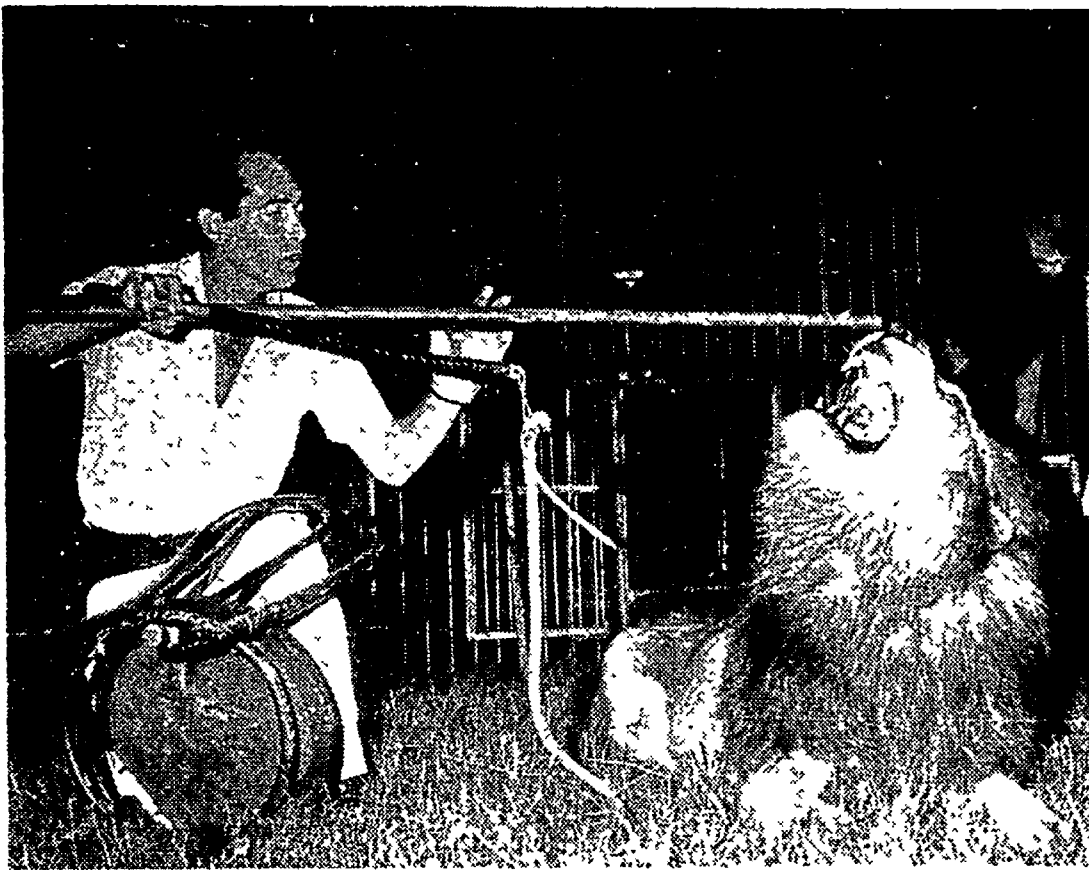

Charles D. Smith, Fond du Lac, is the contractor, with mason work sublet to St. Aubin Construction Co.

Electrical work is being done by Stevenson Electric Co., Appleton; plumbing, Olson Plumbing, Neenah; heating, Appleton Appliance Co., Appleton; original grading, E. W. Strohman Construction Co., Oshkosh, and graveling, grading and concrete by Courtney and Plummer, Neenah.

Handle Complete Line
The firm will handle a complete line of building materials, plumbing, electrical and heating equipment.

The Big Top Comes to Appleton and provided the three elements needed to make a real circus — wild animals, dare-devil acts and kids. Here two of the trained animal acts of the Clyde Beatty, Cole Brothers circus are put through their paces. Above a string of 12 elephants parades past the audience and the lion trainer, below, tries to coax a not-too-willing pupil to roll over. At left, the show's top woman trapeze artist goes through her routine as an anxious spectator, young Joel Fonder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fonder, Appleton, watches. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Appleton Clergy Plans Expansion Into County Unit

Pastors Invited To Hear Racial Expert Speak

The newly-organized Appleton Area Association of Clergymen may live a short life.

Plans have been made to expand the group to include all clergymen in Outagamie County, and the first step will be taken in the next few weeks.

All county clergymen are being invited to a Sept. 26 presentation on the "History of Race Relations in the United States" by Dr. Frances Broderick, dean of the faculty at Lawrence University.

The program will be held at St. Bernadette Catholic Church. Written Several Books

Dr. Broderick has written several books and is a noted authority in Negro history. He formerly served as director of the Peace Corps in Ghana.

Major meetings will be held by the association every other month, officials said, starting in September.

Special interest groups will meet during the alternate months to study areas such as liturgies, preaching, counseling and youth work.

Officials said there are probably about 100 potential members for the group of pastors, priests and rabbis in the county. Approximately 35 attended two organizational meetings during the spring.

The association has been active in arranging for clergymen to open Appleton council meetings with invocations. Committees will be organized to work in other special areas this year.

Dahl Leads Group

Officers of the group are the Rev. Edward Dahl, pastor of First Congregational Church, president; the Rev. W. C. McKinnon, pastor of St. Bernadette Catholic Church, vice president; The Rev. Leonard Ziemer, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church, secretary, and Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein, Moses Montifore Synagogue, treasurer.

Other executive board members are the Rev. Robert Smith, assistant at Sacred Heart Catholic Church and the Rev. Carl Wilke, rector of all Saints Episcopal Church.

Purpose of the organization is to provide closer fellowship for its members and encourage cooperation among churches and other religious organizations for the spiritual welfare of the community.

Kaukauna Reschedules Rubbish Collection

KAUKAUNA — Because of the holiday Monday, garbage and rubbish will be picked up on Tuesday. Residents are to have containers set at the curb for collection, according to William Lambie, street department foreman.

Rural Kaukauna Woman Pleads Guilty of Forgery

Mrs. Leigh Ann Britten, 24, route 3, Kaukauna, Friday afternoon pleaded guilty to three counts of forgery after she waived preliminary examination.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller continued the case to Sept. 16 pending a presentence investigation. Mrs. Britten was released without bond.

She was charged by Outagamie County authorities with cashing a forged $50 check June 25 at the Kroger Store, 2700 W. College Ave., Appleton; a forged $44.76 check June 25 at Prange's Budget Center in the Town of Grand Chute, and a forged $38.28 check Aug. 5 at the Food Queen Store, Inc., Appleton.

Authorities said the three checks belonged to an Appleton woman and were drawn on an Appleton bank.

Erb, Meade Pools To Close Monday

The swimming season at the Erb Park and Mead Pools will close officially at 9 p.m. Monday, according to Lloyd (Bud) Koehnke, acting city recreation director.

'Motorists Behave'

No Holiday Traffic Jam At Butte des Morts

OSHKOSH — Traffic moved steadily over the U. S. 41 Lake Butte des Morts bridge Friday night and early today, with only a brief snarl Friday evening.

Officers of the State Patrol said traffic was stopped for about 20 minutes between 7:30 and 8 p.m. Friday as a stream of cars caused about a one-block backup.

The slowdown was minor compared to other holiday weekend traffic tieups which have occurred on the bridge, the only two-lane stretch on the highway between Green Bay and Milwaukee.

Has Backed Up
At times traffic has backed up for more than four miles.

With the exception of a few motorists who were slowed by tickets for speeding, traffic moved steady and well.

One patrolman remarked, "The motorists are really behaving themselves tonight."

Police attributed the free flow of traffic partially to the weather. The lake had very few boaters, and thus the bridge haltings which stop traffic were few.

Appleton Police Work
National Guard pickup trucks and policemen from Appleton, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan were on duty in District 3, which covers the freeway from Green Bay to Milwaukee County.

Planes from the State Patrol, National Guard and Conservation Department will patrol as weather permits.

A New $245,000 Machine shop and storage building is to be erected at Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co., Kaukauna Division, behind the new office building shown in the foreground. Temperature in the machine shop area will be regulated to enable the firm to maintain the high degree of accuracy needed for numerically controlled machines. This is the third major building project at the Kaukauna site in three years. It is expected to be completed by February and should result in employment of about 50 more men.

Rising Construction Cost Up School Estimates $35,000

MENASHA — Rising construction costs, coupled with higher interest rates for bond issues, will substantially boost the $922,000 figure previously set for the new elementary school on Airport Road.

The school plans, which already have been delayed some 17 weeks due to a squabble over sewer and water services

Father Clifford Named to Post On Newspaper

Assistant at Neenah Parish for 5 Years Is Associate Editor

NEENAH—The Rev. Michael J. Clifford, assistant pastor at St. Gabriel's parish for the past five years, leaves Neenah Wednesday to become associate editor of the Green Bay Register. He succeeds Rev. William J. Stengel who assumes the editorship of the diocesan paper next Thursday.

Father Clifford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clifford, 427 Ninth St., Neenah, members of St. Patrick's parish, Menasha. He attended St. Patrick's School, Campion Jesuit High School, Prairie du Chien, and began his studies for the priesthood in St. Francis Minor Seminary, Milwaukee.

After receiving his bachelor of arts degree in philosophy at St. Meinrad Seminary, St. Meinrad, Ind., he completed his major seminary work at St. Francis.

Ordained by Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona, June 11, 1960, in St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Green Bay, Father Clifford offered his first solemn high mass in St. Patrick's, Menasha, the following Sunday.

His first appointment was as temporary assistant to Rev. S. A. Borusky in the office of the Associated Diocesan Societies and he also served as assistant in Annunciation Parish, Green Bay. He came to St. Gabriel's, Neenah, on Sept. 6, 1961.

Sanitary District Dispute Hearing Reset at Menasha

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A hearing set for Sept. 8 in Menasha over a dispute between Sanitary District No. 4 in the Town of Menasha and the City of Menasha and the city's Water and Light Commission has been rescheduled to Oct. 10 by the State Public Service Commission.

The delay was requested by the Water and Light Commission and the city attorney. The state commission says it believes negotiations may be conducted between the disputing bodies during the interim.

The dispute involves the extension of sanitary sewer and water mains in district territory. The rescheduled hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the Menasha city hall.

between the city and the Town of Menasha, may be brought to a head this Tuesday when bond issues are expected to be introduced at the Menasha Common Council meeting.

However, the cost estimates made by the architectural firm of Boettch & Ginnow Ltd., Neenah, last May have already seen increases of 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

Robert Paynter, the architect in charge of the project, told school Supt. M. J. Gegan Friday the cost estimate should be upped by $35,000.

Paynter said rising costs of materials and labor will increase the school estimates to $957,000. He based his calculations on project costs as of Nov. 1.

The original cost estimates included a $20,000 contingency fund which was to be used for unexpected developments during the construction period. The figures did not include money for sewer and water lines, outside of nominal costs for hooking up to an existing system.

$20,000

The board of education went on record to okay the updating of the cost figures and then adding $20,000 for other contingencies, which could include such sewer and water services, at a special joint meeting with the Menasha Town Board last Wednesday.

Town Chairman Roland Kamp had said he would go along with a bond issue of $942,000, a $20,000 boost over the original

Neenah Firm Appoints Two To New Posts

NEENAH — The appointment of Orville H. Ross to a new position of engineering assistant to the vice president for production of Bergstrom Paper Co. was announced today by Frank R. Hamilton, the company's vice president for production.

Ross, assistant production manager since November, 1964, will be responsible for planning and directing building and creative engineering activities. He also will oversee the accomplishment of the company's capital projects.

Succeeding Ross in production management will be Cecil Hess, who joined the firm last June as assistant to the production manager. Hess has been named production manager for the paper mill.

Ross joined Bergstrom's in 1946 as an assistant engineer. He served as assistant to the production manager and chief engineer before becoming assistant production manager.

Hess was general paper mill superintendent at the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co. before joining the Neenah firm.

Man Sentenced for Federal Check Theft estimates. However, board members felt the architectural firm should revise the cost estimates before arriving at a new construction figure.

Gegan said he sent letters to members of the school board, the town board and Kampo Friday afternoon informing them of the revised cost estimates.

Johnson Retires After 36 Years

Was Vice-President For Engineering Since 1956 at K-C Corp.

NEENAH — C. G. R. Johnson, Adella Beach, vice president, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, has retired from active service after more than 36 years with the company.

Johnson, whose last responsibility was as vice president for

C. G. R. Johnson

Corporate Engineering Development, has been associated with Kimberly-Clark since 1929 in a career that spanned many major expansions, culminating in responsibility for the construction of the corporation's extensive pulp and paper operation at Anderson, California.

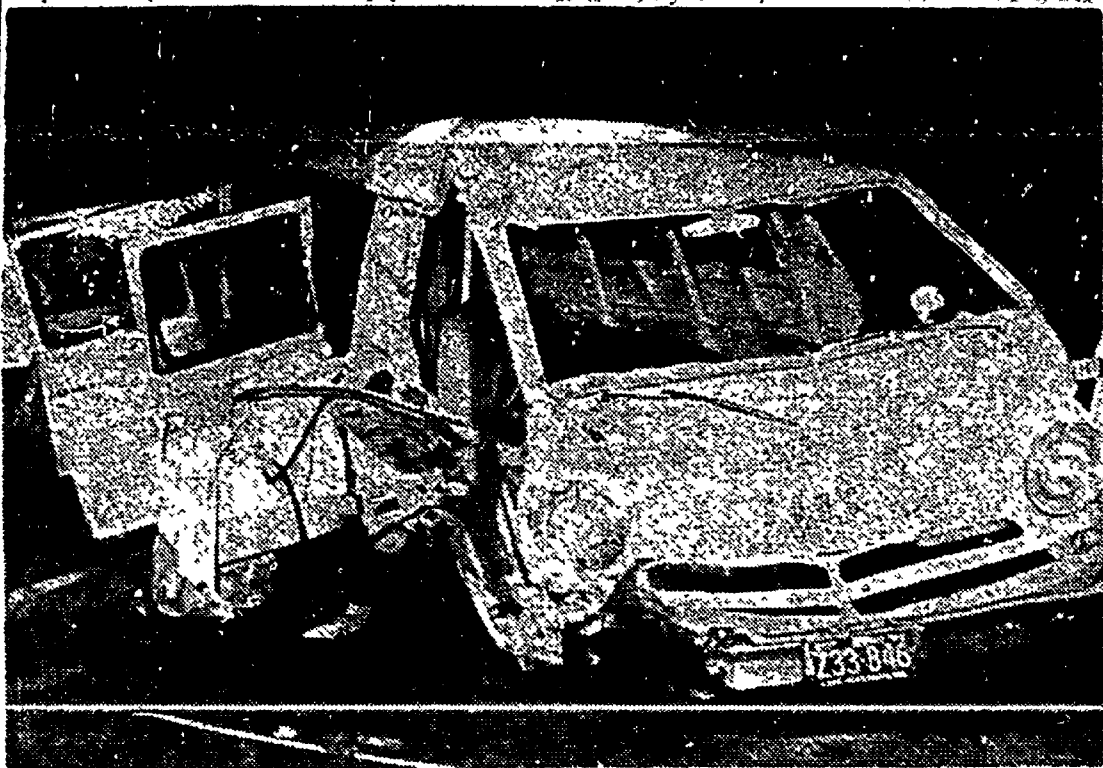

A native of Evanston, Ill., Johnson received his engineering degree from Northwestern University. During World War II, he was assistant general manager of the company's Ordnance Division which produced gun mounds and fuses. He became chief engineer in 1955 and a vice president in 1956.

Strike at Gilbert Paper Set for Tuesday Morning

MENASHA — Union and company preparations continue through the weekend for the start Tuesday morning of a strike at Gilbert Paper Co. by United Paper Makers and Paperworkers, Local 477 AFL-CIO.

Paul Strebe, secretary of the local, said this morning the union is setting up strike headquarters at the Menasha Eagles Hall, where workers may report Monday morning to sign up for picket duty.

A Neenah Youth Was Killed and nine other young persons were injured early this morning when this van skidded through an intersection, struck a tree and burst into flames on Oak Street, Neenah. One of the injured was reported

ed in critical condition at the hospital. The dead youth was John Ottman, 18, who became Winnebago County's 24th traffic fatality of the year. (Story on Page A-1) (Neenah Police Photo)

Neenah Pool Nears Attendance Record

Need 1,500 Swimmers Before Monday To Break All-Time Mark of 118,582 of 1959

NEENAH — With three days of operation remaining at the Neenah swimming pool, the attendance is approaching the all-time figure of 118,582 set back in 1959.

James Hrubecy, recreation director, said attendance at the municipal pool is running about 6,000 ahead of 1965 at 117,100. If the weekend experiences warm weather, the record figure could be surpassed by the time the pool closes for the season on Labor Day.

Hrubecy said the cool weather during much of August kept the pool from reaching new records at this date.

Some 20,954 youngsters participated in the learn to swim program, an increase of 7.6 per cent. A total of 1,745 passed swimming tests, up 11 per cent over 1965.

Playground Activities

The total attendance at the various playground activities during the eight-week session amounted to 72,621. This number is below the 1965 total of 81,226 but last year's activities were conducted over a nine-week period. The eight-week total in 1965 was 71,421.

The registration at the nine playgrounds totaled 2,968, up from 2,900 of 1965.

The special activities, including tennis, archery, softball, etc., saw some 16,140 youngsters participating.

The five productions put on by the Riverside Players drew 3,210, down from last year's 4,748. Some 24,685 persons have seen performances by the theatrical group since it was organized 10 years ago.

Boutique Shop Opens Today In Menasha

MENASHA — Toni's Casual Corner, 5 Main St., a boutique shop featuring fashions and gifts for little girls though grandmothers will open at 9 a.m. Saturday. The shop is a business expansion of Toni's Beauty Salon, owned and managed by Toni Rosinski.

The boutique will be open Monday and Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Toni's Beauty Salon is featuring a Monday Men's Night during which grooming services will be available by appointment. The boutique shop will also be open for browsing.

Driver, Passenger Claim In Auto Accident

An automobile driver and his passenger were advised to see a doctor after the car in which they were riding was struck in a line of traffic accident shortly before 4 p.m. Friday at County Trunk 00 at N. Meade Street.

John Voigt, 57, 521 N. Superior St., and his passenger, Edwin J. Geittman, 21, 35863 Beach Road, were going west on County Trunk 00 and had stopped for the stop light at N. Meade. The Voigt car was being followed by a vehicle driven by Raymond Dorschner, 53, Hortonville, which slammed into the rear of the Voigt auto.

Dorschner told police the light was on caution and he thought there was plenty of time for each car to clear the intersection before the light changed to red.

Voigt and Geittman were after complaining of sore necks.

Appleton Woman Hurt When Her Bicycle Is Struck by Automobile

Sandra J. Saunders, 26, 1409 N. Bennett St. was advised to consult a physician when she complained of a sore right hip after the bicycle she was riding was struck by a car at 10:45 a.m. at the intersection of Atlantic and Division streets.

Casimer S. Usky, 46, 522 Ninth St., Menasha, told police he was traveling east on Atlantic, and after stopping, proceeded into the intersection without seeing the cyclist.

Police said the bicycle was struck about six feet from the south curb, but the rider was thrown clear as the car pushed or carried the bicycle an additional nine feet.

Yugoslav Air Crash Claims Another Victim

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—One of the injured in the British Britannia airplane crash Thursday died today, bringing the death toll to 96.

Three of the remaining 21 injured were in serious condition, a spokesman said.

Appleton Pair Face Trial for Burglary

Youth Tells of Lending Revolver Allegedly Connected to Attempt

Robert V. Krull, 23, and Warren (Pepper) Schroeder, 19, both of 209 W. Pacific St., Friday afternoon were bound over to circuit court for reading of information and trial on charges of attempted armed burglary of an Appleton tavern Aug. 21.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller bound the pair over and continued bond at $5,000 each following a two and a half hour preliminary examination in Court Branch 2.

During the hearing, a 17-year-old Appleton youth, Erwin Zick, 918 E. Frances St., testified that he had loaned Schroeder a .22 caliber revolver and a holster that Appleton police allege was used in the attempted burglary of the Maritime Tavern, 326 W. Washington St.

Also called to testify by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer was Naomi Hudek, 18, 803 N. Clark St., one of three girls who occupied an apartment where police arrested Schroeder and Krull about 5 a.m. Aug. 23.

The girl, who moved here from Rothschild three weeks ago, testified that Schroeder came to the apartment about 4 a.m. Aug. 21. She said he was carrying a gun and his pants and shoes were covered with mud. Miss Hudek testified that Schroeder told her he had dropped a holster and gloves.

When she asked Schroeder where he had been, he told her, "I was over to the Maritime," Miss Hudek testified.

Police found a holster and gloves at the scene of the attempted burglary which was foiled by a patrolman making door checks.

Miss Hudek testified that the .22 caliber pistol identified by Zick was the same one that Schroeder was carrying when he came to the apartment Aug. 21.

Krull came to the second floor apartment shortly after Schroeder arrived, Miss Hudek stated.

Written Statement

Several times during the preliminary examination, Judge Keller refused to release to the defense a writer's statement given police by Miss Hudek. The attempt to view the statement was made by Krull's attorney.

Judge Keller also sustained all objections made by Schaefer each time Krull's attorney attempted to cross-examine Miss Hudek about the nature of the statement.

Zick, who testified that Schroeder had telephoned him asking if he could borrow the

Second Charge

Preliminary hearing on a second charge against Krull, that of burglarizing the Zephyr Service Station, 1349 W. Spencer St., on Aug. 16, was continued to Sept. 16 by Judge Keller. The second hearing also had been scheduled for Friday afternoon.

Bond also is $5,000 on the burglary charge, to which Krull has not yet entered a plea.

Warrants also have been filed by Winnebago County charging Schroeder and Krull with burglarizing the J. C. Penney Co. and Badger Paint Store in the Fox Point Shopping Center, Neenah, early the morning of Aug. 23.

Departments Prepare Budget Requests Under New System

NEENAH — Clerk R. V. Hauser will confer with heads of the various city departments to explain the new standard budget system next week in preparation for the 1967 budget requests.

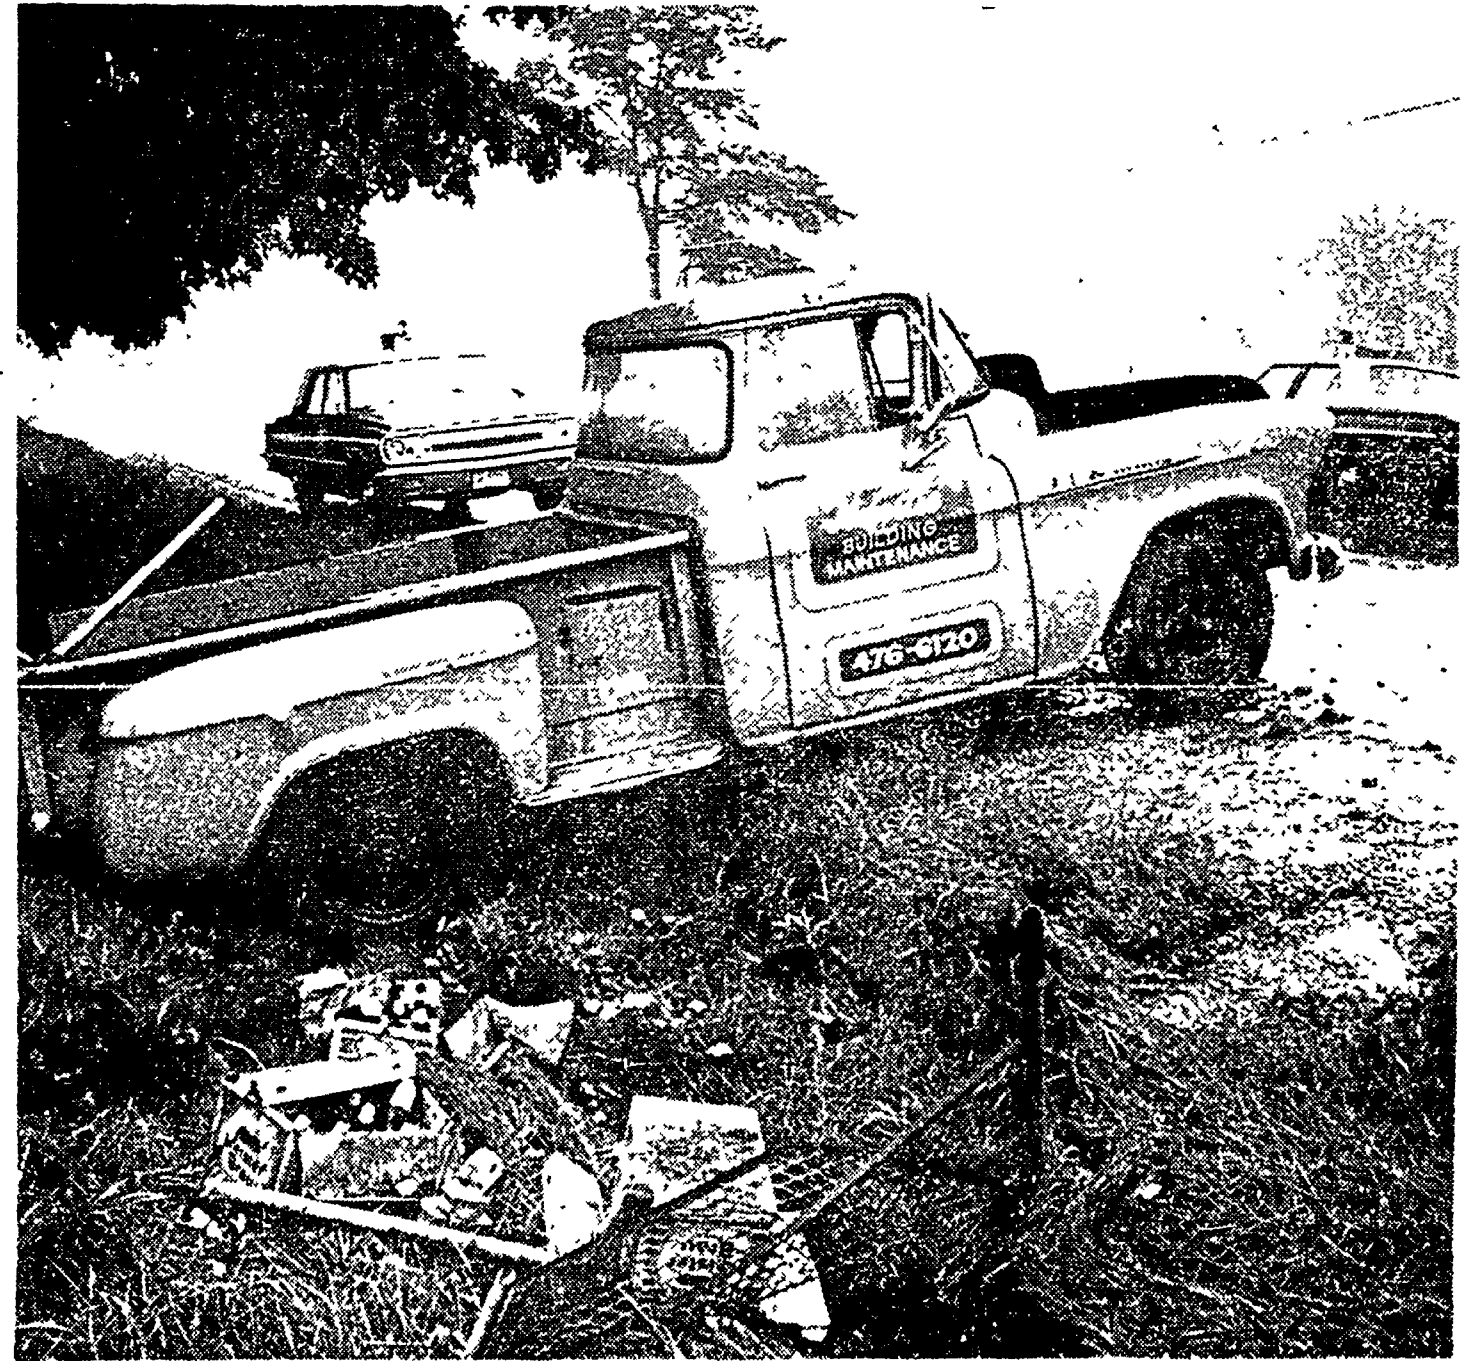

The city departments are expected to hand in their budgets by the middle of this month and after reviews by the mayor and the finance committee over a two-month period, hearings will be held during the first weeks of December.

The new budget system was developed by a special committee headed by former Ald. William Hout. The group received help from other municipalities and the State Public Expenditures Survey in preparing four standardized sheets so budget requests would be uniform.

The 88 accounts used in 1966 will be reduced to 31 general accounts to facilitate bookkeeping records. The forms will be filled out by separate accounts in each department and will contain information on past budgetary requests and an itemized list of the coming year's needs along with explanations for any deviation from previous budgets.

The new accounting system is expected to allow aldermen to better control the city's money and will provide a tool for councilmen to do an effective job of budgeting.

Debris is strewn about State 45 after a truck, driven by Patrick J. O'Brien, Route 1, Omro, went out of control Friday afternoon one half mile south of State 114 and struck an embankment. Damage to the truck was estimated at $600, sheriff's department officials said. O'Brien was treated for minor injuries and released from Theda Clark Memorial Hospital. (Post-Crescent Photo)

812 State St., Menasha
Mr. Eskofski's mother, Mrs. Anna Eskofski, Menasha was inadvertently omitted from his obituary. Funeral services were held Friday, August 26.

Henry Garvey
Freedom, Wis.
Age 70, passed away Friday evening after a long illness. He was born December 29, 1895 in Freedom. He operated a Black Smith Shop in Freedom his entire life. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St.

Boy Hurt as Car Hits Bike

CHILTON — A 14-year-old rural Menasha boy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital about 5:40 p.m. Friday after the bicycle he was riding collided with a car about three miles east of Menasha on U.S. 10 at fire lane 6.
Calumet County sheriff department authorities said Arthur Stoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Stoll, route 1, Menasha, turned his bicycle in front of a car driven by Richard Daun, 22, rural Hilbert. Daun in an effort to avoid the collision veered his car into the ditch but couldn't avoid the collision.
The cyclist suffered head lacerations, cuts and bruises.

Nicholas Catholic Church, Freedom. Mr. Garvey is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clarence (Alma) Weyenberg, Little Chute; Mrs. Joseph (Elvera) Romanesko and Mrs. Lester (Shirley) Giesen, both of Stephenville; six sons, Vance, Sr., Percy, Milo and Vernon, all of Freedom; Jerry, Appleton; Lowell, Seattle, Wash.; three sisters, Mrs. Walter (Meta) Roche and Mrs. Joseph (Deb) Van Camp, both of Freedom; Mrs. Clarence (Helen) McHugh, Green Bay; two brothers, Patrick A., Jr., and John N., both of Freedom; 25 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Freedom with the Rev. Alfred Hietpas officiating. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Greenwood Funeral Home, Kaukauna after 2 p.m. Sunday. Rosary will be prayed at 8 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Neenah Jones
1031 E. Pleasant St., Milwaukee
Age 83, passed away Friday morning after a brief illness. She was born July 5, 1883 in Neenah, moving to Milwaukee in 1912. Mrs. Jones is survived by three sons, Aarum Watke, George Watke and John Jones, all of Milwaukee; four sisters, Mrs. Edward Mielke, Taylorville, Ill.; Mrs. Charles Chase, Oshkosh; Mrs. Bessie Thatcher, Milwaukee; Ruth, Norway; two brothers, Fred Olsen, Neenah; Harry Olsen, Milwaukee; 4 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday from the Westgor Funeral Home, Neenah with the Rev. Arthur Tingley officiating. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 1 p.m. Sunday until the hour of the service.

John E. Oltman
412 4th St., Neenah
Age 17, passed away Saturday morning following an automobile accident. He was born September 9, 1948 in Neenah. John is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jury; his father, Joseph Oltman; four brothers, Thomas, Joseph, David and Charles, all at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Griedl, Menasha; Mr. and Mrs. George Jury, Neenah. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. at St. Patrick Catholic Church with the Rev. Lambert Scanlan officiating. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Menasha. Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral Home, Menasha, from 4 to 9 p.m. Sunday. Rosary will be prayed at 8 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Frank Wangelin
(Elsie)
1006 Lawrence St. New London, Wis.
Funeral services for Mrs. Wangelin will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Immanuel Lutheran Church, New London with the Rev. Frederick Heidemann officiating. Burial will be in Floral Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at the Borchardt and Moder Mortuary, New London after 2 p.m. Sunday until 10 a.m. Monday and then at the church until the hour of service.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND
By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

Right, they often are. Gossip buying or selling even a hen is one symptom of emotional disturbance. People gossip to get rid of their own guilt feelings, or to blame others for faults that they find difficult to admit in themselves, or to ease emotional tensions within their own personalities, or to feel closer to those whom they admire or even envy, or to fulfill their own hopes and wishes in imagination. To condemn gossip is to attack the symptom, rather than to cure the disease. The answer lies in controlling your emotions. Peasant women find it difficult to gain respect! True — False — False. Robert Graves, who has lived in Majorca for many years, observes that it is easier to be a real woman there than it is in modern day America. In a simple society where codes of behavior have not changed for centuries, a woman knows what part she must play and can guard her innate dignity. No different and more serious, but husband there would think of it is not new.

The Hottest Want Ad Buy In The Valley — POST-CRESCENT WEEKEND WANT-ADS 3 LINES 2 DAYS $1

WANT AD INFORMATION
CLOSING TIME
Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Monday—before noon Saturday. For Sunday—before 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

CORRECTIONS OR CANCELLATIONS
Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication. For Sunday—before 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

IMPORTANT
Composition costs will be charged, if an ordered ad is cancelled before publication. After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.

When cancelled on ad, demand a "kill number." No claim is recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days of publication determines the rate of such ads.

ADJUSTMENTS
The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates. All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which make the advertisement less valuable, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

NOTICE
The Post-Crescent is exercising all precautions to avoid publishing any fraudulent or misleading advertising. However, if any ad appearing in the classified columns of the Post-Crescent can be proven fraudulent or misleading, we would appreciate your informing us immediately.

THEY'RE SWARMING OVER HER PLACE... AND HERE SHE SITS, SO COZILY! IT WAS A NEAT JOB!

IT WAS MY IDEA TO HIDE HER IN THIS PLACE... BUT THE REPORT WILL NEVER GIVE ME CREDIT!

CLARA, I WANT YOU AND MR. DRAKE TO THINK HARD... ARE THERE ANY FRIENDS OR RELATIVES CRICKET AND PAUL MIGHT GO TO, IF...

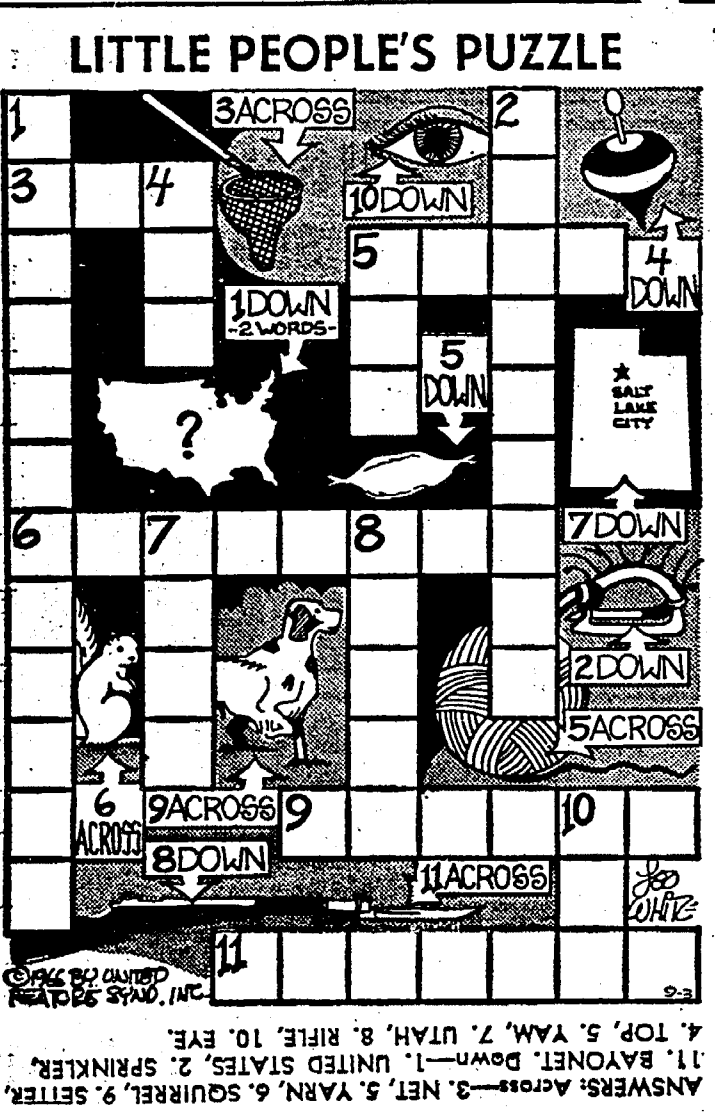

EXCUSE ME, SGT. DRAKE! SEE YOU OUTSIDE FOR A MINUTE?

WE'VE BEEN COVERING THE NEIGHBORHOOD AGAIN... SINCE IT GOT LIGHT... AND WE FOUND SOMETHING... OVER IN THE PARK!

A DEAD BODY!

Gem Tree Fun to Construct,
Can be Used for Centerpiece

BY CAPPY DICK

A "gem tree" is fun to construct and the result may prove to be so attractive that your family will want to use it as a table centerpiece for a dinner party.

glue the red, green, yellow and blue gems as the boy has done in Figure 3.

"Plant" the tree in small cardboard box filled with modeling clay. Decorate the surface of the clay with stones and the sides of the box with some of the imitation jewels.

Next week: Fun for every boy and girl!

5. What is the small member of the antelope family, and also the smallest ruminant?

Answers

1. In 1908, when the Wright brothers built an aircraft for the U.S. Army at a cost of $30,000. This craft could carry two persons at a speed of 42 m.p.h.
2. The olive tree, which has been cultivated from earliest times.
3. John C. Calhoun (1782-1850), who gave up the position in 1932 to become a U.S. Senator.
5. The dik-dik, of eastern and southwestern Africa; it is only 10 inches tall at the shoulder and weighs but six pounds.

Imitation jewels can add sparkle to the table.

You will need a well-shaped dead branch from a tree, a supply of imitation gems like those shown in Figure 2, and some glue to use in attaching the gems to the tree.

The tree should stand no higher than 18 inches; less may be even more satisfactory for you. Remove all the loose bark and the flimsy twigs.

Scrape flat places on the remaining twigs and to them

8,500 Students Will Register at WSU-O

OSHKOSH — Some 8,500 students and more than 500 faculty members are expected at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh when preparations for the 1966 fall term are completed next week, according to Dr. Roger E. Gules, university president.

A little over a decade ago, in 1955, WSU-O had a total student enrollment of 1,164 and only 67 faculty members. By the end of last year, the total student enrollment at Oshkosh had swelled to an all-time high of 7,133, the largest of the nine state universities.

The 1966 increase represents a student enrollment increase of nearly 20 per cent, and might compare to the creation of a whole new small college.

Fall-term preparatory activities scheduled next week at WSU-O will include faculty meetings and receptions, and student orientation and registration sessions. Classes are scheduled to begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 12.

Orientation programs for WSU-O freshmen and new students will be held Wednesday and Thursday, according to Dr. Evert C. Wallenfeldt, dean of students.

Freshman registration will be held next Friday and Saturday. Juniors and seniors will register next Wednesday through Friday.

Registration for student teachers is scheduled from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Textbooks will be issued at the textbook library, located in the basement of Polk Library, Wednesday through Sunday.

Registration for all on-campus evening classes will be held

Tuesday and Wednesday, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room 230 of Dempsey Hall. Saturday morning on-campus class registrations will be held during initial class meetings at 8 a.m. Sept. 17.

Off-campus classes will register at 6:30 p.m. on the first night of class, Monday or Tuesday, Sept. 12 and 13.

Marion Picks United Fund Committees

Group Schedules First Campaign Starting Oct. 15

MARION — James Rogers, president of the newly organized United Fund, appointed committees in preparation for the drive scheduled to start Oct. 15.

The allocations and admissions committee are Mrs. Ken Halpopp, Mrs. Tom Newcomb, Lionel Fuchs and Francis Byers. Business and professional solicitations committee is Carl Rulsh, Lyle Henschel, Dr. William McInnis and Mrs. Ken Robenholz. Payroll deduction committee is Leon Rades, Mrs. James Milbauer, Jeff Nell and Jack Shauger. House-to-house campaign committee is Mrs. David Wilke, Wallace Oelke, Mrs. Stanley Buss and James Rogers.

The United Fund was started by the Marion Women's Club and was put in operation with the recent election of officers. Other officers are Mrs. Stanley Buss, first vice president; Mrs. Lyle Henschel, second vice president; Jack Shauger, treasurer, and Mrs. David Wilke, secretary.

Scrap Balloon Flight After Scope Mishap

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Scientists ordered a balloon flight terminated Friday after a telescope intended for a close look at an exploded star scraped the ground at lift-off.

The mishap broke an antenna and scientists at the National Center for Atmospheric Research received no data from the gamma ray telescope as it swung from its 55-story-tall balloon.

The flight, fourth in a series to study the Crab nebula, was brought down near Waco. It had been delayed two weeks by bad weather.

TAPPI Schedules Meeting, Social Event

The annual social event and the first meeting of the 1966-67 season of the Lake States Section of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry (TAPPI) is scheduled for Wednesday at North Shore Country Club.

Golf and trap shooting are on the agenda with lunch being served at North Shore.

Clintonville Lutheran Women Will Donate $100 for Grant

CLINTONVILLE — Members of the Congregational Ladies Aid voted Thursday to give $100 to the St. Martin scholarship fund.

A kick-off luncheon for workers who will be contacting members of the congregation as part of the church building fund will be served at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 18 by the Ladies Aid.

Plans for a bazaar in November were discussed. Mrs. William Bruns, Mrs. Esther Schmidt, Mrs. David Krubsack and Mrs. Herman Schnoll volunteered to entertain the patients at the Greentree Nursing Home the afternoon of Sept. 21.

Highway 41 Overpass Is Reopened

NEENAH — Normal traffic patterns on U.S. 41 are expected to resume late this morning when the detour off the State 150 overpass is opened.

Closed since early June the overpass, which crosses the Soo and County Trunk PP, was subjected to a $92,500 rebuilding.

Because it had "deteriorated badly" according to LeRoy Empey, district state highway commissioner, the structure had to be stripped of its many macadam surfaces and its platform tilted or banked to a steeper angle to permit greater speeds.

Traffic was rerouted off the northbound lane and traveled 150 east to PP, then northerly with entry to 41 north of the construction.

Railings and signs were installed at the overpass section Thursday, a highway commission spokesman said. County and state crews are expected to remove barricades and signs as soon as possible today. Leon Morrissey, Winnebago County highway commissioner said.

Three Communities Organize Lions Club

Dale, Medina and Readfield have banded together to form the state's 326th Lions Club.

The new club, organized Aug. 31, will receive its charter Oct. 1 during special ceremonies.

Vernon Truesdale is the club's first president; Phillip W. Schaller, secretary, and Harvey Schroeder, treasurer.

The club will meet at 6:45 p.m. the first and third Tuesday of each month.

Green Bay as Model?

Program for Alcoholics Introduced at Appleton

The Green Bay - Brown County Alcoholic Center's total program for the identification, treatment and rehabilitation of the alcoholic was presented as one possible model for Appleton and Outagamie County Thursday night.

Pointing to the 1964-66 record of the 11-year-old center, Norbert Lambert, the group's director, told a committee of the United Community Services, Appleton, that Green Bay's success was measured in results. "Some 42 alcoholics have been committed to the county hospital for diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation," he said. "Thirty of these men and women have left the county hospital and are today dealing successfully with their everyday problems — without alcohol."

He explained that through his office every agency in the city of Green Bay and Brown County, physicians, courts, law enforcement officers, clergy, social agencies, Alcoholics Anonymous, hospitals and welfare departments "cooperate fully to alert a man or woman that a problem exists, that help is available and that help is obtained for them." It costs the county $11,415 annually.

Lambert is one of a number of persons who will be asked to appear before the newly formed sub-committee and present workable programs to assist the alcoholic. Presently the committee, a part of the Research and Planning Committee of United Community Services, is gathering data on the community's needs, existing resources for help and what the community should provide in the field of diagnosis, referral, treatment and after-care.

The committee received the first copies of a leaflet entitled "What to Do For the Alcoholic in Wisconsin" published by the Alcoholism Services, a section of the Division of Mental Hygiene, Department of Public Health.

New York Has Its Hottest, Driest Summer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's not real news to New Yorkers, but the Weather Bureau has confirmed for the record that this summer was the hottest here since it began keeping track of temperatures in 1869.

It was the driest, too. The meteorological summer — or June, July and August — contained 34 days in which the temperature reached 90 degrees or above, another record.

The old record was set in 1944 when 33 days of 90-plus weather were recorded.

The average temperature over the three months was 77.3 degrees, four-tenths of a degree higher than the previous high in 1949.

Only 4.31 inches of rain fell in the city during the three months, a record too. The old record was set in 1894 when 4.36 inches fell.

Commissioner Seeks Portrait of Roosevelt

NEW YORK (AP) — Got a portrait of Theodore Roosevelt around? Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary of New York City is looking for one.

He wants to hang it over the fireplace in his office.

Leary said that he would prefer an oil painting, 45 by 39 inches, to cover the fireplace panel.

But why the former president? Leary had a ready answer. He was also at one time the city's police commissioner.

Welfare, Madison. This pamphlet identifies the scope of the illness in Wisconsin, gives the symptoms of the illness and its effect on the person and lists available resources for help, such as available referral, treatment and after-care facilities in the state.

Committee members now include men and women from a number of community interests. More will be added this fall. Mrs. Kyle Ward, Jr. advised Thursday. Now serving are: Rev. Ralph Sandgren, and Rev. Gerald Falk, clergy; Richard Paulson and Mrs. Ward, UCS; Drs. William Chandler and Keith Keane, Sister Mary Roseanne, medicine; Judge Urban Van Susteren; Earl Wolff, chief of police; the courts; Merton Ehrlicke, city welfare; Richard Reid, Miss Joyce Hoffman, R.N. and Mrs. Edwin Cunningham, R.N., industry; Richard Karel, and Merton Ehrlicke, welfare; Dr. Alan Townsend, Outagamie County Guidance Center, John Engle, Supt. Poodle Takes Show Honors

Winnegamie Club Sponsors Annual Fun Match

A miniature poodle won top honors over approximately 175 dogs Sunday at the Winnegamie Dog Club's annual fun match at the Viking west of Neenah.

Mrs. Nancy Kiersey, Milwaukee, showed the poodle which won the best of match and the non-sporting group.

A German shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kust, Kewaunee, won the working group and a miniature dachshund owned by Leslie Behm, Appleton, won first in the hound class.

Champion of the toy group was a miniature pincer owned by Walter J. Konrad, Menomonee Falls. The terrier class was won by a Welsh terrier owned by Shelia Bartig, Green Bay.

In novice obedience the highest score went to a German shepherd owned by Wayne Caldwart, Green Bay. A border collie owned by Ruth Hamon, Sheboygan, received the sub-novice 4-H award.

The sub-novice award went to an English springer spaniel owned by Gerald Draves, Milwaukee. A standard poodle owned by Mrs. Nancy A. Doepke, Green Bay, received both graduate novice and open honors.

Junior showmanship in the 3 to 12 year group was won by Liza Miller, Green Bay; Julie Dentice, Milwaukee; Fay Von Dassel, Green Bay, and Denise Baers, Appleton.

The 12 to 16 year age group winners were Robert Spielbauer, Menasha; Kay Fehrmann, Appleton; Heidi Quasius, Sheboygan, and Chris Henkleman, Green Bay.

Conformation judges were Mrs. Ann Buck, Plover; Mrs. Arly Hussin, Green Bay, and Rolf Loewer, Fond du Lac. Match chairman was Chuck Eggenberger. Equipment was handled by Bill Johnson, Appleton; trophies, Mrs. Judy Falck, Neenah, and entries, Mrs. Mary Harder, Appleton.

Group to Plan Cities Meeting At New London

3 Women Named To Committee By Mayor Emans

NEW LONDON — A committee of three women was named Wednesday by Mayor Harry S. Emans to plan the fall Small Cities Conference to be held here in late October.

Named to the committee were council members Mrs. Isabelle Schoenrock and Mrs. Grace Stern and Ruth Brehmer, utility department secretary.

All arrangements, such as dates, type of program and speakers, will be left up to the committee, Emans said.

Three ordinances were read for the first time at the continued council meeting Wednesday. One ordinance was for a public developers to make a prepayment equal to 25 per cent of the total improvements to be done in a project before any work is started.

The ordinance did not include the planning commission and board of public works recommendation that the remaining balance be paid over a three-year period.

Emans said a conference with Ray Pelishek, public works director, and S. W. Krostue, city attorney, brought out that by putting a time limit in the ordinance the council would not be able to make certain time restrictions by resolution, but would have to amend the ordinance.

Krostue said the council may want to collect the balance in two years or extend the payments for a longer period if the conditions warranted. Other ordinances presented were:

An amendment to the zoning ordinance of 1936 which would allow a dry cleaning establishment to be built in a business district.

Formosa Growing Pains

Motorbike, Electric Fan Taipei Status Symbols

By EUGENE LEVIN
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The motorbike and the electric fan are the new status symbols in Taipei. Neon lights and the steel skeletons of rising buildings are the new sights in Nationalist China's capital.

Formosa is changing rapidly this summer, 17 years after the Chinese Nationalists came here to set up their last stronghold against the Communists who occupy the mainland.

Among the signs of change there still are reminders of the past: pedicabs, workers in coolie hats, bazaar-like grocery and clothing stores, girls in form-fitting slit-skirt dresses.

But the pace of change is the dominant note. Formosa is booming, and the usual summer heat wave has given many an uncomfortable resident an excuse to buy something he's always wanted and couldn't afford before — an electric fan.

On the dusty streets, where two-wheelers and orchid-colored taxis constitute the main traffic, Formosa's newly affluent society is escalating from the bicycle age to the motorcycle. During the first six months of this year the number of motorbikes in Formosa jumped from 90,000 to 130,000.

A family of five on a motorbike is not an unusual sight.

Accidents are increasing at an alarming rate, to about five motorcycle accidents a day so far this year — twice the rate of 1965.

The municipality's concern with traffic accidents has added a new sound at busy intersections. Young women, with pretty voices, are stationed at crossroads with loudspeakers to plead for cautious driving.

Police have had other worries these summer months, among them juvenile delinquency. Taipei's new park and the botanical garden once were havens for strollers seeking quiet and young lovers seeking privacy. But in recent years hooligans have turned the parks into nightmares, preying on couples for what police call "lovenaking taxes."

Officers say a July crackdown that cleared out more than 300 hoodlums made the parks safe once again. Now police say they are cleaning up another favorite Taipei leisure area, the banks of the Keelung River.

Juvenile delinquency is generally viewed as one of the growing pains of Taipei, which has doubled in size, to a city of 1,500,000, in the past 15 years.

Another growing pain has been smog but this summer the sky over mountain-surrounded Taipei has been a bit bluer, thanks to the initiation of anti-smog measures.

It all makes for healthier conditions, and Chinese officials are particularly health conscious.

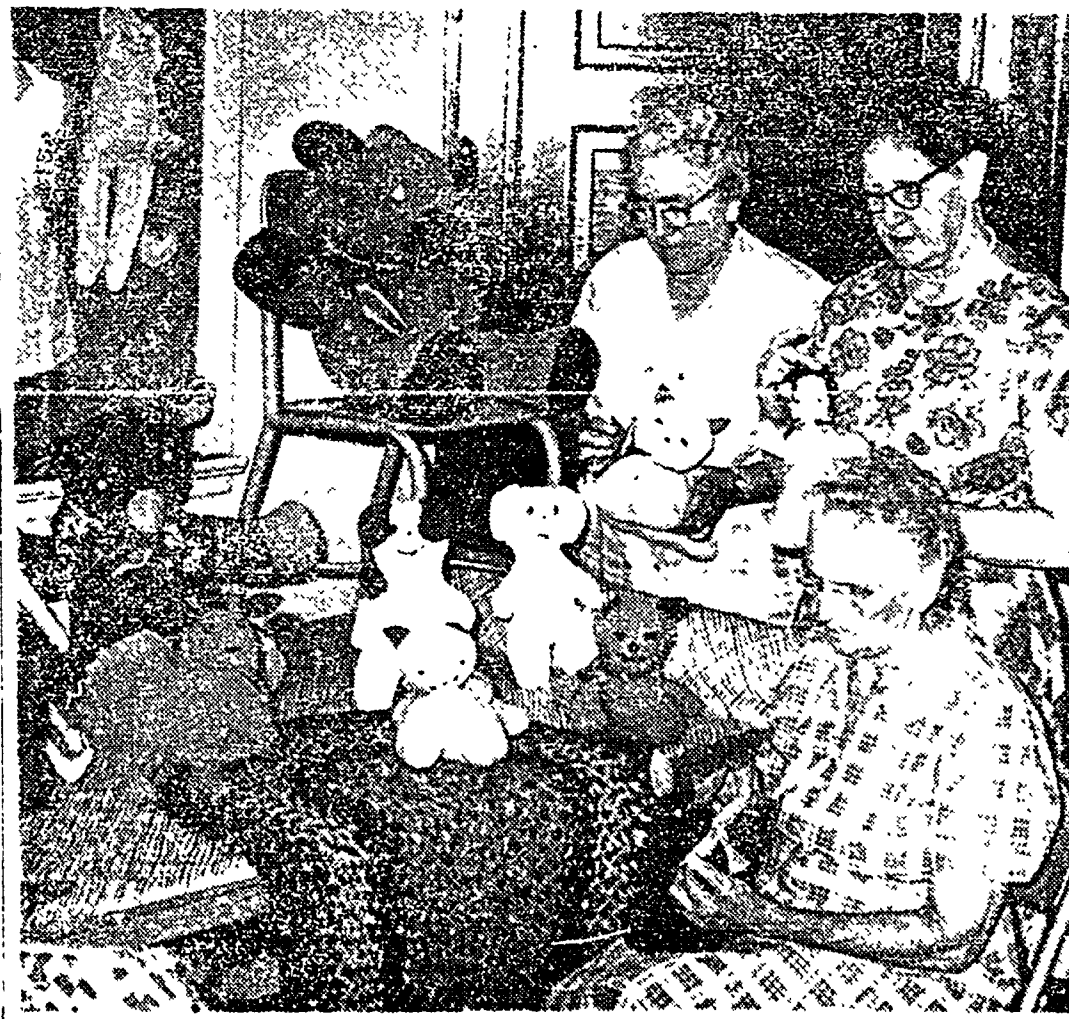

This month they started a "nutritious breakfast" campaign for government employees, military personnel and students. They can get a glass of fresh milk and a sweet roll, served at their desk, for 2.5 Taiwan dollars — six cents U.S. In September, the government plans to extend a free school lunch program from 240,000 to 290,000 students. It says statistics show the children getting the free lunch — milk and a meat sandwich — are growing taller than those who don't.

Fun Spot
American servicemen coming from Viet Nam on rest and recreation leave, are finding Taipei a fun spot that is both cheap and gay.

What the Chinese call "girlie restaurants" abound in Taipei. They feature Chinese food, strip shows and pretty hostesses. Taipei has been caught up in the Turkish bath craze and has scores of them that advertise massages by "Japanese-style experienced nurses."

Taipei also has its permanent American colony, American servicemen and their families stationed here. Generally they live aside from the Chinese, with their own communities and their own clubs. They don't even have to go out in the Chinese world to get a touch of China.

Greenville Plans New Town Hall

GREENVILLE — Findings of a committee assigned to investigate various fire departments and town halls were reported at a public meeting Wednesday as a step in the proposal to construct a combination fire station and town hall in the town.

The investigating committee was James Wunderlich, Ernst Wieckert, Louis Rudloff, Norbert Sigl, Gerald Huebner, Arlo Tellock and George Deimer.

Rando Swanson, farm safety director of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, gave a talk on the organization and vocation of fire departments and the equipment necessary to fight fires most effectively.

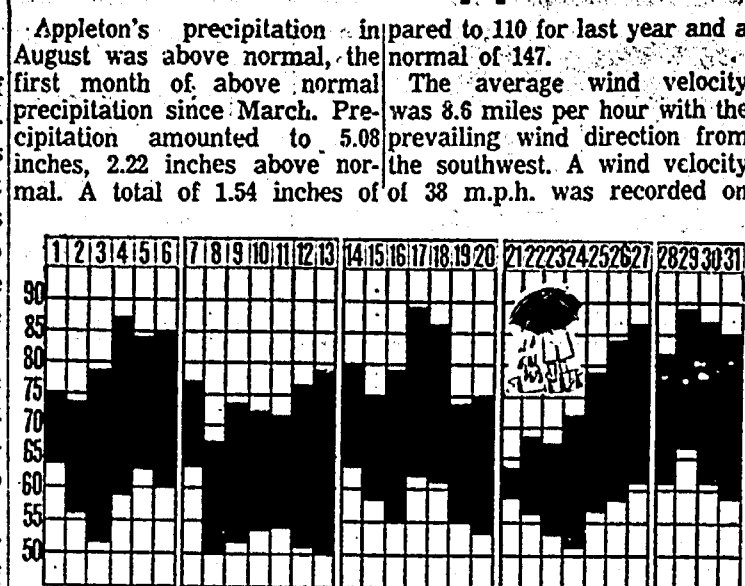

Amherst Man Pleads Guilty of Failing To Pay Lodging Bill

To Your Good Health

Woman's Fatigue Is A Result of Porphyrria

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a woman, aged 35, and my problem has been tiredness. The doctor says I have porphyrria or porphyria. These are new words to me. He also said it's nothing to really worry about and that it has something to do with the liver. — Mrs. C. C.

Various chemicals give color to parts of the body. Pigments called porphyrins give blood its red color.

Some individuals cannot tolerate and get rid of these red compounds. It is a rather rare ailment and an inherited trait.

The disease is called porphyria; urine becomes discolored, a dark burgundy, and that is called porphyrinuria.

It is incurable, but its seriousness can vary. Sometimes a person gets over the disease spontaneously. Your problem is to ease or prevent annoying symptoms.

Muscle weakness is one of them, as in your case. Violent abdominal pains are another. Various parts of the body may be affected. The liver is one, as in your case. There can be mental symptoms.

Attacks come and go and your goal (and your doctor's) is to avoid as many of them as possible. Sometimes too much sunshine can trigger the problem, so watch out for excessive exposure, especially if your skin seems to be affected during an attack.

You may need sedation at times. However, don't use barbiturates as they can touch off attacks. Tranquilizers may be helpful. Infections also can be triggers, so they should be combated as quickly as recognized, but it is wise to avoid sulfa drugs. There are plenty of others available anyway. Menstrual periods can influence attacks.

Steroid (cortisone-type) drugs sometimes are tried. If they help, fine, but this cannot be predicted in advance. In some instances removal of the spleen is beneficial. Your doctor should be the judge of whether your case warrants that.

The disease can affect either sex but is much more frequent in women.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have noted that doctors diagnose tumors as carcinoma, lipoma, angiosarcoma, etc., not necessarily all malignant. Why then is the eye disease, glaucoma, not a tumor. Is glaucoma really cancer — A. H.

"Oma" means a growth, or tumor. Carcinoma, sarcoma and others are cancerous; lipoma, angiosarcoma and many others are not, although all are growths.

Glaucoma was so named because in advanced cases the lens of the eye has a grayish appearance, hence supposedly a grayish growth in the eye. Since then the origin of the trouble, increased pressure in the eye, has become known, but the old name remains. In fact, glaucoma once was used to mean cataracts, which of course is a quite different disorder. Glaucoma has no relation to cancer.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some years ago I read about eating raw egg yolk for gall bladder. — Mrs. C. H.

You certainly didn't read it in this column. First, it wouldn't help. Second, I myself always insist that eggs be cooked. In raw ones there is always a potential risk of germs.

To Mrs. E. J. M.: The hot wax method to remove unwanted hair, done by a professional, is one method, but the hair will grow back again. Electrolysis is the only permanent method, although it is time consuming.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.
